NCTJ FAST TRACK
NEWSPAPER JOURNALISM

I've always liked writing and am a curious person, so Journalism just seemed like a good choice for me.

The NCTJ course was full-on but having tutors that had actually worked in the industry was really helpful as many of them have had careers that a lot of NCTJ students aspire to.

The course focuses on getting people ready to be journalists in the working world, and because of the valuable experience I gained I am now a reporter for a local newspaper.

FINANCIAL HELP AVAILABLE

Tuition Fee Loans

These are loans from student finance companies for the different regions in the UK.

- You can take out a Tuition Fee Loan for the full cost of your course (£7,000) rather than paying the full cost up front.
- This loan will be paid directly to the university or college. You won't start paying it back until after your course finishes, and only when you're earning above a certain level.
- If you're applying for 'equivalent or lower qualifications (ELQs)' - for example if you've already finished an undergraduate degree and you want to do another - fees may be higher and you might not be able to get the same financial support.

Maintenance Loans and Grants

If you're a full-time UK applicant, you might also get a Maintenance Loan or Maintenance Grant to help with your living costs - you can apply for these when you apply for a Tuition Fee Loan.

- Maintenance Loan - you have to pay these back later. You get money at the start of each term (or monthly if you study in Scotland). The amount varies, depending on your household income, where you study, where you live and how long for.
- Maintenance Grant - you don't have to pay these back - they're available if you're from a low income household. They're paid at the same time as the Maintenance Loan (and they're called bursaries in Scotland or Assembly Learning Grants in Wales)

MYTH BUSTERS

I can't afford those tuition fees!

University Centre Harlow's tuition fees are £7,000 per year for 2014/15. Most universities charge around £9,000 per year.

In addition, every full-time student on a degree course at UCH is entitled to £400 for every year of study. You may even be eligible for a fee reduction of up to £2,600!

I've heard at uni you don't get much one-to-one time with your lecturer

At UCH, classes are much smaller and more intimate. Therefore, you get more time with your lecturer.

Living away from home is so expensive

With degrees on your doorstep there's no need to travel or move away.

I'm worried industry won't recognise my University Centre Harlow Degree

University Centre Harlow delivers Anglia Ruskin accredited degrees which are presented at a graduation ceremony.

Cars damaged and road closed after lorry overturns

RUSH hour traffic in Harlow was thrown into chaos on Monday morning when Edinburgh Way was closed after a lorry overturned, shedding tons of wood onto the forecourt of a nearby car showroom.

The accident happened at the roundabout linking the road to the Templefields industrial estate at River Way.

The road was closed for several hours while a crane was brought in to lift the vehicle upright and remove the wood. Fuel from the lorry also had to be cleaned from the road surface.

A number of vehicles parked on the forecourt of Bristol Street Motors were damaged when they were covered in the wood.

A company spokeswoman said: "The incident happened out-of-hours and there were no colleagues or customers on the premises at the time."

"It has been business as usual with minimal disruption as customers were still able to access the dealership until Edinburgh Way reopened."

He was one in a million

Family overwhelmed as friends raise almost £8,000 for funeral of 24-year-old FRIENDS of a popular Harlow man have saved his grieving mother from the pressures of funeral costs by raising almost £8,000 to give him a fitting send-off.

Matthew Dunkley died last month at the age of 24 after suffering an epileptic attack in his sleep.

Shortly after, friends Jack O'Boyle, James Allen and Danielle Decruz set up an online donation page to raise money for the funeral.

"We were hoping to raise enough to cover the funeral so that Matt's mum had no worries about anything," said Jack, 24. "His mum has been struggling for some time and I made a promise to him to look after her whilst he was away. I guess that's forever now.

"Matt was one of our best friends. He was always so full of enthusiasm and I don't think I ever saw him without a smile on his face.

"He took the phrase living life to its fullest and lived by that rule; always making time for whoever needed him at the drop of a hat. He was a one in a million guy everyone was proud to know."

Former St Mark's School student Matthew had just graduated from Bath

University with a Bachelor of Arts degree and was hoping to pursue a career in acting.

His sister, Donna Maleary, said the whole family – particularly his mum Jackie – were touched and overwhelmed by the generosity of his friends.

She said: "Jackie was everything to Matt and his friends knew that.

"Matt would always have a big smile on his face and always had time for a kiss and cuddle with everyone. He never judged anyone and had a lot of friends; some of them were more like brothers and sisters to him."

Donna described the fundraising as "incredible" and said messages of support from his friends had helped "share our pain".

Paying tribute to her brother, Donna said: "He always wanted to be a Power Ranger. Even though he was really shy when he was younger he was always confident on the outside. He had so much love for everyone."

All of the money raised will go towards the cost of the funeral and the wake. There will be

Coroner sets date for Shakoor family inquest two years after arson attack

AN inquest into the deaths of a mother and her five children will be held in December, more than two years after they perished in a blaze at their home in Harlow.

A preliminary hearing into the deaths of Dr Sabah Usmani Shakoor, 44, and her children Hira, 12, Sohaib, 11, Muneeb, nine, Rayyan, six, and Maheen, three, was held at Chelmsford Coroner's Court on Monday.

They all died following the fire which tore through the family's end-of-terrace home in Barn

Mead in the early hours of October 15, 2012.

The only survivor, Dr Abdul Shakoor, suffered minor burns and severe smoke inhalation after battling in vain to rescue his family from the inferno. He was present in court to hear Essex coroner Caroline Beasley-Murray announce the full inquest would be held on December 5.

The hearing was told Dr Usmani and Hira died from burns and inhalation of fumes of combustion, Sohaib from inhalation of fire fumes and burning, Muneeb and Rayyan from inhalation of fire fumes and Maheen from complications arising from inhalation of fire fumes and severe burning.

A major police investigation by the Essex and Kent Serious Crime Directorate is on-going. Investigators have taken hundreds of statements and collected thousands of documents and exhibits as part of the inquiry.

Mrs Beasley-Murray said: "The investigation is on-going. However, it has reached a point where I am satisfied that an inquest can now be listed."

two services to accommodate all of those who want to paid tribute to Matthew.

A bus has also been arranged to bring the friends he made at university from Bath.

Donations have been flooding in since the fundraising page was set up, with pledges ranging from a few pounds to several thousand.

Jack added: "People have been absolutely breathtaking. It really makes you think about the impact he made on everyone's lives."

"We've had two main donations of £2,000 each. One was from Dominos Pizza in Harlow and also close friends of Matt's, Johanna and Adam Loader."

Matthew leaves mum Jackie Dunkley, dad David Maleary, brothers Darren and Darryl Maleary and Robbie Cannon and sisters Donna Maleary and Izzy Cannon. He will also be missed by uncle Kevin, nan and granddad Ann and Albert and nephews Finlay, Tristan and Logan, and niece Hannah.

The funeral will be held on Monday, September 15.

The first service will be held at Harlow Football Club at 12.30pm followed by a second service at Parndon Wood Crematorium at 2.30pm. The wake will be held at the football club which has provided the premises free of charge.

Rookie first aider steps forward to help crash victims

GEMMA GARDNER

gemma.gardner@hertsexnews.co.uk

A GOOD Samaritan, who put his St John Ambulance training into practice at the scene of a car crash just a day after his training, is appealing for those he helped to get in touch.

Myles Lovell, 28, of Tany's Dell, who works in the digital sales department at Financial Times, was on his way to Harlow train station on his motorbike last Thursday when a car travelling in front of him flipped over and collided with a lamppost.

Former Harlow College student Myles rushed to the scene and pulled both people, a young female driver and a young male passenger, from the car, and put them in the recovery position.

The young man was losing a lot of blood from a head wound and quick-thinking Myles stopped the flow with a clean towel from his motorbike.

He waited with both victims until the ambulance came and kept reassuring the man as he was drifting in and out of consciousness.

"It was an incredibly harrowing experience and I'd like to know that the young people, especially the man with the head wound is doing okay," said Myles.

"Without my St John Ambulance training the guy would have lost a lot more blood and I would've panicked not knowing what to do."

Myles underwent the course over a "fear of doing the wrong thing" if he ever came across an accident.

"I never wanted to come across an accident and not be able to help the victims," he added.

Myles, who grew up in Harlow, is urging anyone who has thought of taking up first aid training to "go for it".

"You never know when you will need it and what you are capable of," he said.

The appeal comes during St John Ambulance's annual first aid awareness campaign, Save A Life September, with a range of first aid demonstrations taking place across the country in shopping centres and public spaces. A range of first aid treatments and techniques will be taught to passers-by.

READERS LETTERS

Budget 'consultation' is just a customer survey

SIR I have just completed Harlow Council's budget consultation on its website but it only asks our opinion on what it wants us to have a say on. There is no provision in the so-called consultation for residents to raise their own issues.

To have meaningful consultation residents should be given all the relevant information, have an open forum to discuss it with others and then be allowed to come to a considered opinion. This is just a customer survey and is not a measure of agreement on the level of services and customer care that the council should be providing or what the residents' needs are.

Do we really need a chief executive, an assistant chief executive and an operations director? Do we really need a regeneration department when they have already managed some projects into being 10 years overdue?

Do we really need housing property services when repairs and maintenance are done by Kier Harlow and monitored by the repairs standard panel? Do we really need a decent homes management structure consisting of housing services who manage HPS who manage Savills who manage the main contractors who in turn manage the sub-contractors? This is made worse because the contractors seem to report direct to someone called Bev Thomas?

Do we really need a procurement department when senior managers order what they need and a cartel at Essex County Council control the purchasing?

Do we need a Safer Harlow Partnership when housing services has taken on the role of policing anti-social behaviour across all tenures?

The council should operate strictly within its budgets in an open and transparent way. There should be a clear line drawn between the General Fund and Housing Revenue Account and any mechanisms used to move money between them should be clear and open to public debate. Residents should know clearly what each account should be used for.

Under the old committee structure residents could see which councillors were working on their behalf; under the cabinet structure it's all gone very secretive. The portfolio holder and head of service need to take responsibility and be accountable directly to residents.

Let's have a really clear, open and transparent council that is really working together with its residents.

The council's letter head logo states 'Working together for Harlow'. As the council is not allowing us to work with them, maybe our logo should be 'What a fine mess you have got us into this time'.

Mike Carr
Rundells, Harlow

Flag of St George is, in fact, a symbol of defeat

SIR Further to Jack Etman's musings on the flag of St George (Letters, August 28), the previously acknowledged emblem of England was a white dragon on a red background (similar in style to the present Welsh dragon).

King Alfred used this banner when

The photo of the week in the August 21 edition of the Star of three butterflies on a buddleia bush identified them as Red Admirals. However, several readers have been in touch to point out they were not Red Admirals but small tortoiseshells.

Readers Dave Higgins grabbed his camera and took this photo of a young jay when it flew into the back garden of his home in School Lane, Harlow, a couple of months ago.

If you have a photo taken in or around the town which you would like to feature in our Photo of the Week section, email a high resolution copy in JPEG format, along with a description of your photo and details of when and where it was taken to star@hertsessexnews.co.uk. Include your name and address and insert 'Photo of the Week' in the subject line.

fighting the Danes and it became the emblem of Wessex. Wessex eventually became the dominant Saxon kingdom in England.

The present flag of St George and St George as the patron saint was forced on England by the Normans who wanted to destroy any Saxon influence in the country after 1066. So the flag of St George is actually a symbol of a defeated England.

I'd be happy with a white dragon on a red background but there's no getting away from the fact that the St George flag is as about as un-English as you can get and no amount of jingoistic tosh will make it so.

Robert Johnson
Harlow

Money would better be used on frontline services

SIR Last week Harlow Council issued sparkly new tablet computers to its councillors at a cost of £500 each plus the cost of specially written software. This has occurred with no consultation with councillors and an IT strategy which is three years out of date.

The tablet computer is designed to be the sole piece of IT to enable us to carry out casework for residents, study reports and analyse agenda papers... except emails are only stored for two weeks and there is no way to print documents.

This type of technology does have its uses, such as housing officers who need to work away from their desks on a regular basis. This is where new investment should go, to support frontline services.

I suspect the residents of Harlow will not think the one per cent increase in council tax this year to spend more on councillors is value for money when essential services are under threat.

Cllr Simon Carter (Conservative)
Mark Hall Moors, Harlow

Equality means the law must apply to everyone

SIR I have huge respect for David Forman and the Harlow TUC; everything they do is to protect workers' rights. However, he is wrong to imply that I am against travellers, as he suggests in the Star last week.

My complaint, alongside hundreds of local residents, is against those individuals who break the law, commit anti-social behaviour and trespass on public and private land.

There may need to be a discussion about traveller sites but Harlow already has two - more than any other town in the county.

It is also worth noting that thousands of people in Harlow are on the waiting list for homes. They are not allowed to break the law so why should those who set up illegal encampments be permitted to?

Like David, I believe in equality and that means the law should be applied equally to everyone, whether they are travellers or not. I hope Harlow TUC and Harlow's Labour councillors who support illegal encampments recognise this.

Robert Halfon MP
House of Commons, London W1

A torch might help but it will not allay fear of dark

SIR I write in response to author of the letter in last week's Star, who in response to my letter about the street lights switch-off, suggested we should carry a torch if we go out late at night.

Whilst I acknowledge that a torch would certainly be advantageous to any individual walking through the dark veil of darkness that Harlow has been thrown into after midnight, what your correspondent has failed to comprehend is the sheer fear that one succumbs to when faced with such an undertaking. Astonishingly they go on to suggest a torch with built-in panic alarm.

This person did not experience the fear and certainly did not know of the circumstances surrounding this evening out. I take exception to the condescending comments about how I should have known and been equipped in advance.

What they failed to grasp is ordinary people like myself and my elderly companion were faced with a situation that I feel was unacceptable, deplorable and reprehensible. Even if I had worn a miner's torch wrapped around my head, a battery pack strapped to my back powering a floodlight or wore a glow in the dark suit, the fact remains the whole experience was alarming and stressful for both of us.

The point I feel that is being missed here is the fact that emotional strain was induced due to the fear-provoking situation we found ourselves in and all because we accepted an invitation to her granddaughter's 30th birthday celebrations and left after midnight. How inconsiderate and irresponsible of us!

My concerns over feeling vulnerable are very real. According to Essex County Council Highways webpage, recent studies claim crime rates have fallen but this was based on the Uttlesford and Malden initiatives. Fabulous for these two towns but any correlation based on these findings cannot be presupposed across other towns until statistics are collated.

Myself, family and friends have had to alter our social behaviour due to the lights out policy. The possible association here is that crime rates are down because people are deterred from going out in the blackout.

I accept carbon emissions and light pollution need to be addressed but a rethink must be brought to the table that is acceptable to all e.g. staggered, sporadic lighting should be considered. Anything but not just nothing.

Labour councillor Mike Danver's letter (Star, August 24) was immensely encouraging, affirming the 'Turn Our Street Lights Back On' campaign was gaining momentum. Thank goodness someone has the safety of Harlow on their agenda.

Last but not least, I would be interested to know if the author of the letter would care to carry out a field experiment. Let's arrange to meet, perhaps at The Stow, around midnight one weekend to embark on a walk in the dark with just a keyring torch. Our journey could take us through Blackbush Spring along Howard Way then up through Great Brays and through to Little Brays where I live.

Only by embarking on such an experience can one pass any critique justifiably. Who knows, you may be able to allay my fears of Harlow in the dark.

Barbara Byham
Little Brays, Harlow

Pavements are to walk on so why not use them?

SIR Why do people insist on walking in the middle of Latton Common Road?

It is not a quiet little country lane and often drivers are forced to swerve or slow down and receive angry responses from these pedestrians as if the motorist is at fault for driving along a road. There is a pavement there so why don't they use it?

Community order for stalker, 49

A MAN who stalked his former partner has been placed under a 12-month community order and banned from going to a pub near his ex-partner's home.

Chelmsford Magistrates Court was told Robert Harrington, 49, of Nichols Field, Harlow, had gone to the Poplar Kitten pub after splitting up with his partner and had also texted and called her between July 27 and August 7.

Harrington, who admitted stalking, was given the community order with 12 months supervision and a two-year restraining order not to contact the woman and banning him from going to Brays Mead and the Poplar Kitten pub. He was also ordered to pay £60 victim surcharge and £85 costs.

Hassan Baig, representing Harrington, said in mitigation: "He's an alcoholic but he's taken action to overcome the problem."

Elderly residents left in the cold for SIX weeks

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertssexnews.co.uk

ELDERLY residents living in sheltered accommodation have said they are "fed up" after not having hot water or heating for six weeks.

Sheila Newman, 68, is one of the youngest residents at Latton House and she, along with her neighbours, say they feel that after losing their warden three years ago things have gone downhill.

"I am one of the youngest here and the oldest resident is 92 years old," said Ms Newman.

"We should not be left like this without heating or hot water. Normally if it could be on, we would all have the heating on. As we're older we feel the cold more."

One resident told the Star he was currently wrapping himself in blankets to stay warm. "It's very cold in the mornings and at night time especially," he added.

According to the residents, Kier Harlow had advised those who have complained about the lack of hot water to use their immersion heaters.

"It is expensive and some of us do not even have immersion heating," said Ms Newman.

FEELING BLUE: Residents of Latton House are angry at being left without heating and hot water for more than a month

"It's been an on-going problem for years. Since January this year we have been without hot water or heating 12 times.

"Even when it goes off we are still paying for it which means when it's off we're paying for something we don't have."

Another resident, who lives in the same block as Ms Newman, said: "I had to go and buy two heaters, one for my bedroom and another for my lounge. They cost me £44.75 each."

Kier Harlow has informed residents the problems were caused by leaks in underground pipes and they would be carrying out repairs on Monday.

A Kier spokeswoman said: "We are aware that Latton House residents have experienced ongoing problems with their hot water and heating and we are sorry for the inconvenience this has caused."

"We have identified that the issue has been caused by a number of leaks from the underground pipes. Where a leak has been easy to find we have carried out a temporary repair but unfortunately this has sometimes put strain on the pipes, which in turn causes further leaks that require repair work.

"On some occasions it has taken more time to trace the leaks. Following the shutdown of the district heating system on July 26, all residents were visited to install immersion heaters to those homes that did not have them which ensured residents had an alternative option for the supply of hot water."

"Any additional costs incurred by residents during this period will be reviewed on a case by case basis and reimbursed accordingly."

She added that the replacement of underground piping is a priority and is already in Harlow Council's planned programme of works for 2014/15.

"The work is due to start on Monday and we expect that it will take up to five weeks to complete. We have written to all residents at Latton House to inform them of this."

"If a cold snap occurs during this period we will ensure residents are not left without a heating source. Our resident liaison officer will also be on hand to answer any resident concerns."

Travellers quit former school site but leave pile of rubbish

A MOUND of rubbish has been left on the former Passmores School site in Harlow after a group of travellers moved off the land.

The site is owned by Essex County Council which will be responsible for cleaning up the area.

The travellers who set up camp on the site left on Sunday.

A county council spokesman said: "We share residents' frustrations about the condition in which the land has been left. We are currently in the process of making arrangements for the site to be cleared and aim to have this completed as soon as possible."

As the Star went to press, six caravans were parked up on Katherines/Tithelands playing fields and around 20 caravans are on land in Newhall.

Harlow Council leader Jon Clempner said: "This situation continues to be frustrating for both residents and the council."

"We will take the necessary action to protect the town's much loved green spaces and respond to residents' concerns."

Jumble sale kids reunite 50 years after the event

A GROUP of old friends who organised a jumble sale when they were children reunited in the same spot 50 years to the date of their event.

Nick Taylor, of Fir Park, organised the reunion for all the children involved in the jumble sale that took place 50 years ago at Ram Gorse.

The group's efforts were published in 1964 in the Harlow Citizen who reported that 23 children from Ram Gorse held the sale in aid of the town's "old folk".

Mr Taylor said: "We met at Ram Gorse and many of us had not seen each other for more than 40 years. The picture was taken in the same spot as the original. Alterations to the area, the planting of trees and the fact that we had all grown up led us all to say how small the whole area that we had lived and played in seemed.

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"It went really well, we spent a couple of hours together, some of us brought photos of when we were children. I had a great time, it was good catching up. Although it's been a while, it was nice being with old friends.

"It was difficult to get everyone to stand in line as they had in 1964, to take this new photograph but we managed it."

The group travelled from all over the UK for the Ram Gorse reunion.

Out of the entire group, Nick was unable to trace John Lintonbon, the Young family, Christina Douglas, and Geraldine Pembroke.

The group are planning to meet again in the future and are calling on Nostalgia readers to find the last few members of the jumble sale group.

Cyclists join carnival parade

IT'S an image from the past but not as far back as you might think.

These riders on vintage bicycles were part of the procession in Harlow's carnival in 1956.

The bikes were from a collection bought by a resident who saved the bicycles from being sold to the United States.

As well as the cyclists, a wide variety of floats representing different charities and businesses followed the five-and-a-half mile route around Harlow.

The weather was not kind that day according to reports and rain tried to dampen people's spirits, luckily to no avail.

Mr T. Davies, then Harlow and District Carnival Association secretary, said at the time: "No one withdrew from the parade [due to the rain] and I didn't receive a single grumble from any of the competitors."

The event raised £80 for local hospitals.

Assault course no obstacle for fit fundraisers

A DAUNTING assault course awaits fundraisers who will be putting their strength and stamina to the test in aid of St Clare Hospice.

The hospice charity has teamed up with fitness retreat Bootcamp at The Place, in Old Harlow, to stage the challenge next Sunday (September 14).

The course, which features obstacles including scramble nets and tyre tunnels, is open to anyone over the age of 16. The prize for the person finishing in the fastest time is a free bootcamp retreat weekend worth more than £300.

St Clare community fundraiser James Barber said: "This is an exciting and unique event which is ideal for those who want to test their limits and push themselves while helping raise money for their local hospice."

"Having tried a few of the obstacles myself, I can promise it's also great fun, especially if you want to pit yourself against your friends or workmates."

Tickets for the challenge are £8 in advance or £10 on the day. There will be a raffle and refreshments at the event.

To book a place or for more information, call James on (01279) 773751 or email james.barber@stclarehospice.org.uk.

Tragedy of dog owner who died trying to save his pet

Strictly star Thom offers advice to dance students

ONE of the contestants in the new series of Strictly Come Dancing was given a warm welcome when he visited Harlow to pass on some useful advice to a group of performing arts students.

Thom Evans, above right, was invited to the Kevin Adams Academy to talk to the students who in turn showed him a few moves to help him during his appearance in the hit BBC show when it returns to the screens next month.

The dance school, based at Passmores Academy, is run by celebrity personal trainer Kevin Adams, who said: "Having just returned from Hollywood where he was casting for some new films including 50 Shades of Grey, Thom was able to talk to the students about the benefits of being able to master singing, dancing and acting as this was something that he had previously never given a thought to."

Thom, a former international rugby player, took up modelling and acting after his sporting career was ended by injury.

"He told the students that after a spinal injury ended his rugby career there was a dark period for him before beginning his new career as a model," said Mr Adams. "It was while modelling that he was bitten by the acting bug and he is well on the way to great things."

"A lot of our teenage students worry about making decisions they will have to live with for the rest of their lives so Thom made them see there are always options."

He added: "We hope to see some of the moves that he learned with our students. Everyone was very impressed with how he threw himself into every dance step."

COURT REPORTER

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A DOG owner was killed when he was struck by a lorry after chasing one of his pets when it ran into the road, an inquest heard.

Andrew Wiggins, 50, of Great Brays, Harlow, was walking his two dogs in Second Avenue on December 16 last year when the tragedy happened, Chelmsford Coroner's Court was told.

The accident happened at 4pm when one of Mr Wiggins' dogs ran into the road and he went after it. Both he and the dog were struck by a lorry and were killed.

Mr Wiggins, who suffered facial and brain injuries, was certified dead at the scene.

FLASHBACK: Floral tributes at the scene of the accident

Area coroner Eleanor McGann recorded a verdict of accidental death.

She said: "It's very clear from the police report that unfortunately Mr Wiggins was chasing his dog which ran into the road and as a result of that both he and the dog were killed."

Ms McGann described Mr Wiggins' death as "very tragic".

PAH worker's head shave for charity

A HEALTHCARE assistant at Princess Alexandra Hospital shaved off her long locks for charity in front of the crowds at a music festival.

Susan Clarke, 45, of Berecroft, Harlow raised £1,609 for Teenage Cancer Trust in memory of her nephew Darren Clarke, who died aged 19 after suffering from cancer ewings sarcoma.

He passed away on September 29, 2004. Susan, whose hair was shaved off by hairdresser Nikki Scott, said: "It was great and it went really well. I was slightly nervous to start with but now its done and I have raised so much money, I'm really pleased that I have managed to do such a good thing for such a great charity."

"I was hoping to raise £1,000 with gift aid, so to raise that much is great. We had loads of people coming over to our gazebo to show support and offer donations. Darren would have been so proud as well."

As well as Susan's fundraising efforts, her hair will be made into a wig and given to a teenager who has lost their hair during cancer treatment.

Susan has also organised a fun day at The Shark pub on Sunday (September 7) and a raffle with winners drawn on September 27. Prizes include tickets for a tour of Tottenham Hotspur's White Hart Lane stadium.

To sponsor Susan, visit www.justgiving.com/Cara-Simons.

Salon hosts event inspired by friend

The owner of a beauty salon in Old Harlow is holding a charity event to raise funds for the Motor Neurone Disease Association after being inspired by her friend.

Sarah Ahern, who runs the Shwe Tan beauty and tanning salon in Station Road, will be holding a raffle and reducing the price of spray tans from £20 to £13 on Saturday, September 13.

The event was inspired by Alex Lambe, 23, an admissions advisor at Harlow College, who has been raising money for the MND in memory of her mother who passed away from the illness.

She said: "In February 2000 my mum was diagnosed with MND. "On Christmas eve 2001 my beautiful mum lost her life to MND and my heart broke that day. I miss her every day and wish I could have her back in my life."

"MND is a cruel, devastating disease. It is heart-breaking watching someone you love trapped inside their own body, unable to move or communicate."

Sarah added: "I wanted to help this cause that had taken away my friend's mum's life, so I thought of doing something at my salon to help raise money and awareness for MND."

Fun day to raise funds for hospital

PRINCESS Alexandra Hospital will be hosting a fundraiser to raise awareness of its services.

Guests will be able to take part in games, a teddy tombola and cup cake decorating.

There will also be a raffle as well as refreshments on the day.

The day, which is sponsored by Cambio Healthcare, 1st Call Mobility and Barclays Bank, will also provide information on other health and well-being services provided in Harlow.

Gill Izzard, organiser of the event, said: "This is also a fundraiser to promote the hospital's charity and to raise much needed funds to enhance patient care, purchase special equipment, improve facilities and invest in vital research."

The event will be held on Sunday, September 21 from 1-4pm.

Support group for dementia carers

THE Alzheimer's Society is holding a monthly support group meeting for carers of people with dementia.

Care to Talk provides an opportunity for carers to share experiences, advice and generally act as a source of support for those caring for dementia sufferers.

The Harlow Carers Support Group takes place on the first Wednesday of each month, from 10-12pm at St Andrew's Church Hall, The Stow. For more information, visit www.alzheimers.org.uk/ localinfo or call (01279) 418331.

Hospice lottery

THE winner of the £1,000 first prize in the St Clare Hospice weekly lottery drawn on Friday, August 29 was ticketholder 21344, who lives in Takeley.

The rollover prize was not won and will go forward to the next draw when it will be £3,600.

Harry's mission to help others on a Borneo expedition

ROSS WILDISH

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A BURNT Mill Academy student will be travelling across the world to take part in community projects in Borneo.

Harry Mapp-Pope, 15, of The Drive, Harlow, will be flying to Borneo next year with 10 other students as part of an expedition by Camps International.

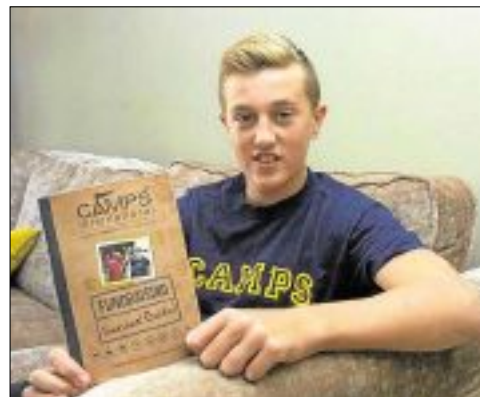

The group will be taking part in local community projects including building classrooms, teaching children reading and writing skills and lending a helping hand at an orangutan sanctuary.

Harry said: "I wanted to go as it is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity and I have heard it would be life changing through the teachers at school."

"Teachers have said that when you have been it makes you really appreciate your own lives and all that we have."

The group of students can also earn 70 UCAS points by taking part to help their application to university.

The trip will take the students to five different locations in Borneo with the aim of making improvements and helping local communities in each area they visit.

The Year 11 pupil is currently raising money to cover the costs of the four-week trip and has already raised more than £2,000.

He said: "So far, I have personally raised £2,350 through fundraising."

"I also took part in The Nuts Challenge [a 7km obstacle course in Surrey] and I'm hoping that will get me even more sponsorships."

"I'm most looking forward to the whole experience of it, the community work, meeting new people, the teamwork and making a difference in people's lives which I think is really going to prepare me for adult life in lots of different ways."

To sponsor Harry for his Borneo trip, visit harrymappope.weebly.com.

Exhibition celebrates retro style

AN exhibition of retro design is now on display at the Time Machine Gallery in the Harlow Leisurezone.

Design Icons features a range of memorable designs from the 1960s, 1970s and 1980s, and includes iconic music and games from the eras.

Guests will have the chance to try playing Mario on the original Gameboy and admire the fashion trends which ruled the three decades.

Two 3D design students from Herts Regional College, Albie Saunders and Hannah Turner, worked to put on the exhibition from start to finish, choosing the layout and constructing the displays.

Art workshops for 11-18 years old are also available.

Design Icons will be on display at the Second Avenue gallery until October 7.

Housing proposal for rugby club is back on

GEMMA GARDNER

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

PLANS to build homes on Harlow Rugby Club's site have been re-submitted – two months after a similar application was withdrawn.

Developer Kier Living has reaffirmed its commitment to bringing much-needed new homes as well as updated rugby facilities to the town. In August the company submitted a planning application to Harlow Council to build 125 new homes on land at Ram Gorse – five homes fewer than under their previous proposals.

A separate, complementary planning application to build new and improved rugby club facilities on land at Latton Farm has also been submitted by Kier.

Both applications have been made in association with Harlow Rugby Club, which supports all the proposals.

They follow previous applications that were submitted in April 2014 and subsequently withdrawn in July following discussions with Harlow Council.

FLASHBACK: Star, February 6

Alan Brooking, chairman of Harlow Rugby Club, said: "Harlow Rugby Club plays a vital part in local, community life. However, our existing club facilities were built over 60 years ago are in a poor condition and are extremely difficult to maintain.

"The new facilities have been planned using Sport England and RFU guidelines and, as such, will enhance our ability to provide rugby for all ages, both male and female, in a very safe environment.

"As a club we recognise the importance of Latton Farm and have designed the facilities to keep the level of development to a minimum.

"I believe we are delivering a scheme that not only secures the future of Harlow Rugby Club, but also maintains an open green space for generations to come."

For a number of years, the Ram Gorse site has been allocated for housing in the council's Local Plan. Kier Living's application at Ram Gorse includes the provision of new affordable homes, as well as a mix of terraced, semi-detached and detached houses and areas of public open space.

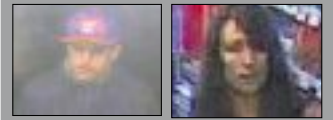

These would include a new rugby club pavilion, pitches, parking, access road and floodlighting. These new facilities will not only support all sections of the club, but also its wider community programme, in particular rugby development and competitions for local schools, as well as providing a facility that not-for-profit organisations can also apply to use.

A plan to build 147 homes on the land after the rugby club had moved to Latton Farm was submitted to Harlow Council in 2001 but was rejected.

A planning inquiry was held in 2003 after which the appeal was dismissed.

NEWS IN BRIEF

CCTV of shop theft suspects

CCTV images of two people suspected of stealing food and drink from an Old Harlow supermarket have been released by police.

One of the pictures is of a man who went into the Co-op store in High Street at 9.45pm on Monday, May 19 and took bottles of white wine, beer and vodka from the shelves. He then left without making any attempt to pay for them.

The other image is of a woman suspected of stealing gammon, burgers and lamb steaks from the shop on the evening of Tuesday, May 20.

Anyone who recognises either of the people in the pictures should call PC Neil Armor at Harlow on the non-emergency 101 number.

Jobs event focuses on autism

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon will be joining representatives of support group PACT for Autism, Harlow College and Essex County Council at a business event to showcase employment opportunities for young people with autism.

The event will take place tomorrow (Friday) at the University Centre at Harlow College from 12.30-2.30pm.

Organiser Julia Carr said: "There are schemes already in place to get students with autism onto internships and apprenticeships but it's the businesses that are the missing key. The event is about encouraging businesses to be a part of the scheme and to see that a person with autism can be a valuable asset to any business."

Shopping parade to get a facelift under improvement plans

RESIDENTS, businesses and community groups are being invited to have their say on how The Stow shopping parade in Harlow could be improved.

The Stow is 62 years old and Harlow Council is looking at ways to regenerate and secure investment to improve the area.

It is working with Essex Place Services to produce a design framework – a blueprint for development – which will help guide improvements.

With the recent opening of Aldi it is hoped that this will help support and secure further regeneration of The Stow.

The plan will promote and guide further improvements in the neighbourhood centre, ensuring a well-integrated, "designed and complementary mix of uses which is sustainable, best meets local community needs, supports business and improves quality of life".

The study will explore a range of issues, likely to include access, security, future development, links between different parts of the neighbourhood centre, the condition of buildings, and the quality of streets and spaces.

Councillor Tony Durcan, portfolio holder for regeneration and enterprise, said: "The Stow was the first neighbourhood shopping centre in Harlow and will always have an important place in the town's history."

"Today it is still a vibrant place with many

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

local businesses operating in the area and there is some community activity but we know it could be a better place for local residents.

"The first, and most important, phase of this work is get the views of local residents, businesses and community groups so we can start putting options together."

The views and opinions expressed as part of the consultation will help inform the design framework options. Residents can have their say at www.harlow.gov.uk/spd-the-stow.

Completed questionnaires can be handed in at the drop-in event, sent by post or emailed back to the council. All comments for consideration should be returned by Friday, September 19.

Once proposals for the design framework are put together a formal consultation exercise will be undertaken to gauge views on the proposed content and preferred options. Any comments received will then be analysed and a final proposal published.

A drop-in event for the community to voice their views is being held today (Thursday) at 1pm and 7.30pm in the annexe at Moot Hall in The Stow.

Further consultations events will be held as the plans progress.

Top barks! Joe helps to judge dog show

HUNDREDS of people headed for Harlow Town Park on Sunday for a dog show and family fun day in Harlow Town Park.

The event was organised by the Friends of Pets' Corner and opened by former EastEnders actor Joe Swash, who will be starring in this year's Playhouse panto, Cinderella.

Joe was joined by other members of the cast, including the Ugly Sisters, as he judged the best dog in fancy dress category.

The eight other classes included cutest puppy, prettiest bitch, most handsome dog, scruffiest mutt, waggiest tail, the dog judge would most like to take home, veterans (eight years and over) and best junior handler (under 12s).

There were also gift stalls, children's entertainment and refreshments.

Afterwards a spokeswoman for the Friends said the day had been a great success.

"Joe was really impressed with Pets Corner and thinks Harlow is lucky to have such an amazing place free to the public," she said.

"He told us he will be back."

How PAH is helping Joana follow her dream of a career in nursing

TWELVE months after completing her nursing degree in Portugal, Joana Barradas started work at Princess Alexandra Hospital in Harlow.

The 22-year-old, originally from the town of Leiria in the central region of the country, is one of thousands of qualified nurses and doctors who work in the UK after training or studying in their home country.

Nearly 5,000 people who trained outside the European economic area have registered with the Nursing and Midwifery Council over the past five years.

Joana obtained a temporary position at PAH and works as a staff nurse on Lister Ward. But she hopes to continue her career in nursing at the Harlow hospital.

"I finished my degree in January 2013 and I saw that Princess Alexandra Hospital was doing recruitment back in Portugal in August," she said.

Joana underwent a telephone interview, sat exams and was then invited to an exhaustive and rigorous two-day interview process before securing a job – an experience she said was made easier thanks to help from the hospital.

She quickly settled into her new role and has already applied for a permanent nursing position at PAH because she is loving her work.

"I first started on Ray Ward because here at PAH we have to show competence and have to be signed off for it. We have to prove what we can do.

"I am now working on Lister Ward and I love it. It is a lot of responsibility to go from being a student to working but I really enjoy my work.

"It can be hard as you're sometimes unsure,

With Princess Alexandra Hospital about to embark on its latest recruitment drive and recent announcements from the Nursing and Midwifery Council that overseas nurses and midwives will face shortened assessments, reporter BIANCA CASTRO talks to nurse Joana Barradas, who started working at the Harlow hospital after finishing her degree in Portugal.

especially as it is a different country and there are different procedures for paperwork and things. We have mentors who help us out and they are very helpful."

It was around Joana's second year of her four-year course in Portugal that she started to consider the possibility of coming to England to work.

She said: "I like the experience of living in a different country. Unfortunately back in Portugal there are many nurses who do not have jobs. I always wanted a career in nursing so I was considering coming to England from my second year.

"I miss my mum's food a lot since I moved here. My parents gave me a lot of support as doing this [moving to the UK] was for my career and happiness but I know it was hard for them as I'm an only child.

"I have always wanted to be a nurse since I was little. I always liked to help people and I knew I would be a nurse."

Her advice to those considering following her example is clear: "Be brave and take the opportunities that present themselves. You will be very happy you did."

Later this month PAH will be hosting one of its biggest recruitment events to date. The hospital is looking to take on more nurses and midwives and will be able to offer jobs on the day to the right candidates.

Senior recruitment advisor Lisa Wilson said: "This is part of a huge recruitment drive for us. The day will start at 10am and in the afternoon we are going to be doing some speed interviews which is something new for us.

"We are asking people to apply online through the NHS website before they arrive so that when applicants turn up we have a bit of basic information from them.

"This is a massive drive about having more nurses. We like to say that PAH stands for Patients At Heart; we are always trying to improve."

She added: "In the big scheme we are quite a small hospital. We have 3,000 staff while somewhere like Addenbrookes at Cambridge has 11,000. But we are family friendly and we have found that once a staff member is here they rarely leave."

>> To apply for a position at Princess Alexandra Hospital before the recruitment open day on Saturday, September 27, visit the NHS website. The application deadline is September 19.

NEWS

Family's fundraiser in memory of Claire

THE family of Claire Parrish, the mother-of-four who was murdered by her former partner two years ago, will be holding a charity night on Saturday.

Ms Parrish, pictured below, would have turned 40 on September 22. To celebrate the anniversary her family and friends are organising a 'night in' fundraiser for Safer Places.

Safer Places helps support victims of domestic violence and was used by Ms Parrish.

Her sister Kasey said: "The night in will be raising money for Safer Places and family and friends will be coming together on Saturday in memory of my sister and her birthday."

"People will be donating money throughout the night and what they would have spent going out they can give to charity. We also have a raffle going on too and we're hoping to raise as much money as possible."

To donate, visit www.giving.com/Kasey-Parrish.

Tickets on sale for awards ceremony

TICKETS for the annual Heart4Harlow awards dinner have gone on sale this week.

The ceremony, which will take place at the Manor of Groves Hotel in High Wych, is a chance to publicly thank the town's community builders.

Some 20 crystal trophies will be given out to groups, businesses and individuals, who enhance the life of Harlow. The awards are supported by the Star.

Tickets for the awards evening on Thursday, October 9 can be purchased by emailing admin@heart4harlow.org.uk.

Entrepreneur's new way to watch films

A WEBSITE developer from Harlow has come up with a new way of tackling illegal film downloads.

Martin Colton, 29, of Felmongers, came up with the idea for DemandFlicks as a way of supplying films into people's homes at the same time as they are released at the cinema.

He has launched a crowd funding campaign on the kickstarter website to raise the £10,000 needed to build the site.

Customers of DemandFlicks would make a financial pledge - via a crowdfunding site - to have access to a specific film at the same time as its released at the cinema.

Each film would have a set target and if this is not met all those who have donated towards it will have their money returned.

"There is a demand for films that is not being supplied," Mr Colton said.

"DemandFlicks means people could still pay to watch a film but it isn't too expensive.

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"People want to be part of a community and I think DemandFlicks addresses that as well. It's all about bringing people together and using films to do that."

He added: "I have looked at all the legal terms, and spoken to distributors and found out how it would all work and it is feasible.

"I'm using kickstarter to hopefully get the funds to set up the website and get it working. Something like this will not work small; it will work better on a big scale.

"To get the website to a stage where it can screen the films to a large audience without crashing will take a lot of work.

"People can pledge any amount they wish to watch a new film, there is a minimum credit amount set for all movies and people can pledge as much as they want. If there isn't enough demand for the movie then no money is lost as people have only pledged - no money has actually been taken.

"DemandFlicks is something different."

To find out more, visit www.kickstarter.com/projects/martincolton/demandflicks.

Michelle brings Strictly to Harlow

A DANCER has set up new fitness classes joining her love of dance with exercise.

Michelle, Clarke, 46, of Felmongers has been running FitStep classes for less than a month and is already inundated with residents signing up.

The FitStep programme was created by Strictly Come Dancing stars Natalie Lowe, Ian Waite and Mark Foster, who appeared on the BBC show. The classes combine Latin and ballroom with fitness techniques.

"I have always been a fan of Strictly and as I also attended ballroom and Latin lessons as a youngster," Michelle said.

"It just felt like an opportunity that couldn't be missed.

"It feels great to be able to bring FitSteps to Harlow and give people the experience of using and dancing ballroom and Latin steps without the need to have a partner or even being a dancer.

"This is an exercise class, not a dance class and it's loads of fun. "It has really grown in popularity after just two or three classes."

Classes are held every Wednesday at Fawbert & Barnard School and new classes will begin at Latton Bush Centre in October.

For more information, contact Michelle on 077 52847242 or email mrs.m.clarke@sky.com.

Owner's dream of new business

A HAIR and cosmetic store has opened after the owner was inspired to set up shop following a series of seminars run by the Prince's Trust last year.

Wave Hair and Cosmetics in Bush Fair, which opened earlier this year, offers human hair extensions, hair products, accessories and make-up.

Liberty Chinoda, 28, attended the seminars at the Civic Centre earlier this year and the events inspired him to start his own business.

He said: "It's definitely an exciting adventure to embark on. I had always had a keen interest and my passion increases as I watch my dreams unfold."

Essex 48 open up new store in town

A BOUTIQUE is the latest shop to open in Broad Walk, Harlow.

Essex 48 was officially opened by model Charlotte S. last month and sells "glamorous partywear and stylish daywear" for men and women.

Manager Lee Cutter said: "I'm delighted to be opening Essex 48. We stock a wide range of clothing and accessories. "We've got something for everyone."

Council completes £62k refurbishment of town play areas

BLACKBUSH SPRING

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A £62,5000 programme of refurbishment work at several free-to-use outside recreation areas throughout Harlow has been completed.

Playing surfaces of the tennis courts at Blackbush Spring, Bush Fair and The Dashes have all been repaired and new anti-vandal tennis nets have been installed.

Surfaces have also been repaired at multi-use games areas at Bush Fair, The Dashes, Foldcroft, Northbrooks and Staple Tye and perimeter fencing has been replaced.

The work cost £62,500 and was funded by Harlow Council with money allocated from the capital programme earlier this year.

The decision to refurbish the facilities was taken in a bid to increase participation in sport and play as well as improve health and safety at the sites.

Councillor Emma Toal, portfolio holder for youth & community, said: "Harlow has so many open spaces for residents to enjoy but a number of the tennis courts and multi-use games areas owned by the council were showing their age."

"This is a major investment by the council to improve free outdoor play areas across the town. It is important that we provide facilities and opportunities for families and young people to get active and improve their health and well-being.

BUSH FAIR

"The usage of these sites has been low for a long time due to their poor condition. Some of the sites were full of potholes which have now been repaired making it safer and more enjoyable for users."

Dan Long, UKIP councillor for the Bush Fair ward, said funding for the work was found as a result of him pressing for improvements to facilities for the town's young people.

"I was in communication with council officers about getting play areas developed within the Bush Fair area," he said. "The first option was Stile Croft but there were issues with that so I suggested improving the tennis courts."

"Since UKIP have been in council we have been getting a lot done in Harlow. This is a good start to provide more facilities for young people who need activities in their town."

Jobs, housing and health on the agenda as new union holds its inaugural meeting

A NEW trade union to tackle problems in Harlow including employment, housing, low pay and the health service has been launched.

Suzy Stride, Labour's parliamentary candidate for the town, chaired the inaugural meeting of the Harlow Trade Union and Labour Party Liaison Organisation.

Union representatives from the GMB, UCATT, Unite, Unison, CWU, ASLEF and USDAW attended the meeting during which discussions focused on the living wage, employment, migrant labour, the NHS and the need for more affordable housing.

Afterwards Ms Stride said: "The first meeting was positive and I look forward to working closely with our trade union colleagues over the coming months to find answers to the challenges Harlow faces."

"I'm proud of Labour's role as part of the wider trade union movement and it is really important that we work together in order to achieve a better deal for working people in Harlow."

She added: "Under David Cameron things have got worse for Harlow's working people. "Just last month figures from the ONS (Office for National Statistics) showed wages are falling. We need better-paid work for a fair and sustainable recovery, something that the Tories just can't deliver."

Politicians get a soaking in ice bucket challenge

LABOUR politicians in Harlow accepted the challenge to take part in a fundraising craze that is sweeping the globe.

Harlow Council chairman Ian Beckett and Emma Toal, portfolio holder for youth and community - pictured above - were nominated for the Ice Bucket Challenge by Labour parliamentary candidate Suzy Stride after she accepted the challenge a few days earlier, above right.

The online fundraising campaign involves people being filmed while being doused in buckets of ice-cold water and then nominating one or more people to do the same.

It was started by American medical charity the ALS Association which funds research into what is known as motor neurone disease in the UK. The challenge has been taken up by celebrities across the world including model Kate Moss, actor Matt Damon and Scotland's First Minister Alex Salmond.

Cllr Beckett and Cllr Toal were filmed being soaked with buckets of water at the Water Gardens in the town centre. All the money they raised will be donated to Cllr Beckett's chosen charities - The Chocolate Run, No Child Without and the Gibberd Garden - and both also made a donation to the Motor Neurone Disease Association.

Poppy project proves popular with knitters

A PROJECT to mark the centenary of the start of the First World War by creating a display of hundreds of knitted poppies in Harlow Civic Centre has gained support from across the country.

Since Harlow Art Trust launched the Knit To Remember project last month it has received requests from people living in Norfolk, Suffolk and Leicestershire wanting a pattern to contribute.

As a result a flyer with knitting and crochet patterns is now available from the Civic Centre as well as from local libraries and community points.

Anyone can take part by knitting or crocheting poppies or using loom bands to weave one.

Harlow Council chairman Ian Beckett, who suggested the idea, said: "I was confident it would capture the imagination of people in Harlow but the response has been simply brilliant."

Completed poppies should be delivered to the Gibberd Gallery in the Civic Centre by the end of this month.

They will then be used to create a commemorative display in the lead up to Remembrance Day.

MP calls for M11 accidents probe

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon said this week he would be calling for a special inquiry because of the "extremely disturbing" rise in accidents on the M11.

Highways Agency data for the motorway between junction 7 at Harlow and junction 9 at Saffron Walden show there were 150 incidents which caused at least one lane closure between January 2013 and July this year.

It also revealed there were 49 incidents between January and July this year compared to 39 during the same period last year.

Three people have died in accidents this year and 16 have been seriously injured.

Mr Halfon said: "The rise in accidents is extremely disturbing. It shows why we need an extra M11 junction into Harlow and other traffic calming measures.

"We need a junction in the right place that is sustainable and not disruptive to local residents.

"Given the rise in accidents, it shows the need for a special inquiry by the police, the Highways Agency and Essex County Council to see what safety measures can be implemented.

"I will be contacting the relevant authorities to ask for this."

Stansted Airport has called for a "strategic assessment" of junction 8 in particular, in a sustainable development document released on Tuesday, noting that there had been "increasing instances of delay and disruption" recently.

The Highways Agency admitted that congestion at junctions 7 and 8 was a "known

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

problem". It said both had been identified for further investigation.

"The M11 is a vital route and the Highways Agency is committed to keeping it operating safely and reliably," a spokeswoman said. "We do this both through our day-to-day management of the road and by taking the right long-term decisions.

"Record amounts are being invested in our roads and Highways Agency route strategies will make sure it is spent to best effect."

She continued: "The number of casualties along the M11 continues to fall. There was a slight increase in injury collisions in 2012, but overall the collision rate remains below the national average for this type of road.

"It is worth noting that 150 incidents over an 18-month period is less than two incidents a week across a route length of almost 31 miles."

An Essex Police spokeswoman said: "The M11 has recently been the scene of a number of road traffic collisions between junctions 7 and 8, a number of which resulted in the tragic loss of life or life-changing injuries.

"Investigations into these incidents remain ongoing with Essex Police's serious collision investigation unit.

"Essex Police has provided additional patrols to complement normal roads policing activity on the M11 in an effort to enhance driving behaviour."

Improvements are already making a positive and visible difference to town

I am really pleased that more than 1,000 responses have been made to the council's budget priorities consultation which closed on Sunday.

This is the first time the council has run a consultation of this size on such an important issue and I would like to thank the many residents who took part and told us what their choices would be. The findings will be published and shared with the community shortly.

The council is planning for a future with a lot less money to spend on services. This is due to reductions in the grants it receives from the Government.

Over the next four years the council needs to save £5.3m. Despite these financial constraints, the administration will be taking into account the views of the community and invest where possible to make Harlow a better place.

In recent months the council has already improved the grass cutting service which is starting to pay dividends, improved local tennis courts and outdoor play areas to provide better facilities for all, refurbished a number of garage blocks to improve parking and housing areas and completed the redevelopment of Clifton Hatch.

All of these are starting to make a positive, visible difference to Harlow.

The council also continues to do what it can to make Harlow a fairer place. Kier Harlow has followed our lead to become a Living Wage employer.

The building cleaning contract is also being let to a company on the basis that low-paid workers are paid the Living Wage, which is £7.65 per hour.

These are important steps towards making Harlow a Living Wage town, something which would make a huge difference to the lives of low-paid workers living and working in Harlow.

Wasps build giant nest in a bedroom

A HOMEOWNER got the shock of her life when she went into an unused bedroom and found a huge nest of more than 5,000 wasps.

It is thought the insects may have got into the room through a small window which had been left open. It is estimated they would have taken about three months to build the 3ft-long nest on the bed.

Wasp nests are usually made of a substance similar to paper that the insects produce by chewing wood into a pulp and then sticking it together with saliva to form a honeycomb-type structure. In this case the wasps had chewed pillows and the mattress of the bed in order to build the structure.

Pest controller John Birkett, who was called to the house in Hampshire to remove the nest, said: "When I went into the room it was the most amazing sight I had ever seen."

"There was a nice quilt on the bed and the woman wanted me to save it but when I pulled it the nest split in half. "I have never seen so many wasps . . . and I have been doing this for 45 years."

School holds reunion to mark its 75th year

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

AN independent school in Old Harlow welcomed former pupils, staff and their families to a picnic as part of its 75th anniversary celebrations.

The event, held in the school grounds at Hillingdon House in Hobbs Cross Road, also marked the launch of Saint Nicholas School's alumni association.

A jazz band provided the musical entertainment while other amusements included a magician and various outdoor games.

There was also an exhibition of film and photography spanning all 75 years of the school and a tree was planted in the grounds in memory of Alexander Glen Swire, who was killed in action during the First World War.

The Swire family have allowed the school to use Hillingdon House for the past 37 years for a 'peppercorn' rent.

During the afternoon there were speeches from lifetime president and chairman of governors Ian Liddell, who was a former pupil of the school, as well as former chairman of governors Derek Wilson, former heads Geoff Brant and Jane Ridler and current headmaster Keith Knight.

The Saint Nicholas School Alumni Association has been formed to enable former pupils to stay in touch through reunions and events. It will also harness their skills and talents to inspire pupils currently attending the school.

Saint Nicholas School was established in 1939 in a group of buildings in Churchgate Street. The school moved to Hillingdon House in 1977 and now has a roll of 400 students aged four-16.

Golfers chip in at charity event

GOLFERS swung into action to raise money for the armed forces charity Help for Heroes.

Stephen Ratcliffe, of Spinning Wheel Mead, Harlow, decided to hold a golf day after his brother-in-law - a sergeant in the Parachute Regiment, - witnessed "many tragic moments involving his best friends" while in action.

The fundraiser was held at the Hertfordshire Golf and Country Club in Broxbourne and raised more than £1,500. Those taking part enjoyed a round of golf followed by a meal. There was also an auction and raffle. Stephen, 31, said: "It went really well and the weather was so good after two days of rain. All 46 players enjoyed the day and the golf club were fantastic hosts.

"Everyone was very generous with their donations and we've raised around £1,500 at first count. There was a great response to the raffle and many people took part in the auction."

Stephen - pictured above right with, from left, Ross Tobolewski, Brad Bisset and Kris Tobolewski - added: "I would think of arranging another golf day next year as this was such a success and I've had a good response from people who want to take part in another one."

the square

Fourth Avenue, Harlow
(01279) 305000

THERE'S plenty of choice for music fans heading to The Square over the next few weeks with a busy autumn line-up. Alt rockers Speaking In The Shadows will be headlining on Saturday as part of a tour to support their new EP The Lies We Lead. They will be supported by King Canute and Summer City.

On Friday, September 19 Penny Royal return with a new line-up and support from The Teamsters.

California reggae giants The Aggrolites will be visiting Harlow for the first time on Friday, October 10 to perform material from their as-of-yet untitled upcoming album. Joining them will be Essex ska outfit New Town Kings.

There is also a great selection of cover bands over the next few months. Craig John will be paying tribute to Freddie Mercury with cover band Queen on Friday, September 12. Expect a stunning live performance of greatest hits from the band's discography.

Cleverly-named The Cure tribute act Liqueur will be playing a selection of the Goth popsters' hits on Saturday, September 13.

If you're in the mood for some '80s hair metal, then Pout At The Devil will be right up your street. Catch them on Saturday, September 20.

The Doors Alive will cover tracks from the legendary band's catalogue on Friday November 17. Doug Cameron, assistant road manager to The Doors for a period in the late 1960s, described them as "the best tribute band I have ever seen".

The Faces Experience return after their last well-received show at The Square in April. Expect a performance of classics from Faces and Rod Stewart's early material on Friday November 14.

Award-winning play brings film to stage

ROSS WILDISH

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A REWORKING of the classic film Days of Wine and Roses is coming to Harlow next month.

The original film, which tackles the effects of alcoholism upon an American couple, has been shifted to 1960s London and follows an Irish couple relocating from Belfast.

The switch of location breathes new life into the story, allowing audiences the chance to witness the dreams of a young couple torn to shreds by their addiction to alcohol.

Speaking of the changes to the story, director Paul Fowler said: "Owen McCafferty was commissioned to write a new version of the original television play and film but found himself with a bad case of writer's block until he hit upon the idea of transporting the original American characters to Belfast and London in the early 1960s.

"The move enabled him to expand its original theme of the effect alcohol dependence to look at the experience of the immigrant in a strange town and the disintegration of the family."

Earlier this year the play received eight awards at the British All Winners Festival and Easter Festival of Plays, including 'best play', 'best drama' and 'audience appreciation award'.

Featuring Kate Billingham and Richard Jordan in the lead roles - both of whom received awards for their performances - the one-night only performance is part of a national tour by White Cobra Productions.

The play will be staged at the Victoria Hall Theatre in Old Harlow on Saturday, October 11, starting at 7.30pm.

>>> Tickets for Days of Wine and Roses are now available for £10, with £9 concessions and also available online at whitecobra.ticketsource.co.uk (box office fees apply).

FAMILY Following a four-week run at the Vaudeville Theatre in London, Wizard Presents will be bringing its adaptation of Michael Morpurgo's enthralling children's tale I Believe In Unicorns to Harlow for a performance at the Parndon Wood Nature Reserve. It tells the story of Tomas, a young boy who loves playing outdoors but hates school, books and being dragged to the library by his mother. One day his world is turned upside down when he meets the Unicorn and the Unicorn Lady and is spellbound by their story. With his newfound love of books, Tomas becomes instrumental in saving his burning library when his village is devastated by war. The performance takes place at 2.30pm on Sunday and tickets cost £6. The show is suitable for families with children aged 5-11.

Discover the stories behind the music of Lindisfarne

BACK in the early 1970s, folk group Lindisfarne achieved chart success with several hits including Lady Eleanor, Meet Me On The Corner, Fog on the Tyne and Run for Home.

Two years ago drummer and founder member Ray Laidlaw and front man Billy Mitchell were invited by their local theatre to perform those songs and recount their experiences in the band.

The reaction to that and the handful of subsequent 'Lindisfarne story' gigs was so positive that the duo are now embarking on a nationwide tour that will include a performance at Harlow Playhouse.

Billy and Ray will be telling the story of Tyneside's favourite band in a special two-man acoustic show.

They'll be performing all the hits, illustrating them with tales, personal archive photographs and video to give an insider's view of their worldwide tours, festival successes and TV appearances as well as their triumphant return home and their unique relationship with Newcastle City Hall, the venue for more than 130 Lindisfarne performances.

Hear how the band's classic songs developed and how Bob Dylan's producer helped Lindisfarne to focus their musical ideas and burst through the glam and manufactured sounds around them.

>>> The Lindisfarne Story comes to Harlow Playhouse on Sunday, September 14. Tickets cost £19.50 including booking fee. To book call the box office on (01279) 446739 or visit www.playhouseharlow.com.

How to store your surplus

If you are now inundated with ripe tomatoes, green beans, berries and herbs, don't leave them to go stringy or mouldy because the freezer can go a long way to making your crops last into winter.

Blanching newly-picked vegetables before freezing them is a great way to avoid waste. It stops enzyme actions which can cause loss of flavour, colour and texture. Blanching cleans the surface of dirt and organisms, brightens the colour and helps retain vitamins.

Just plunge vegetables in boiling water for a minute or two and then drain in a colander and transfer them into ice cold water to stop the cooking process, then let them cool and dry them off, place them in freezer bags and store in your freezer until you need them.

You can do this with a range of vegetables, from runner and French beans to sweetcorn, broccoli, carrots and peas, although blanching times may vary.

Of course, we all know the texture of tomatoes changes as soon as you freeze them, but they will still be good for pasta sauces and stews in the months to come.

Strawberries, too, change their character when they've been frozen, but you can make some delicious desserts, jams and sauces using frozen berries. Blackberries, which cost a fortune in the shops but grow wildly among hedgerows in the countryside, can be picked and frozen. Instead of squishing the newly-picked fruit in a freezer bag, place the berries flat on a tray and put them in the freezer, then once they're frozen they can be transferred intact to bags and placed back in the freezer.

By Hannah Stephenson

Herbs, too, can be preserved to add to soups, casseroles and sauces long after you've harvested them. Just place a small amount of the herbs into ice cube trays and cover them with water. Then, when you want them you can just take out one or two cubes to add to your dish.

Some herbs, such as parsley, can be frozen as whole bunches and kept in bags in the freezer. When you want them, just take a handful from the bunch and crumble them into your dish.

If you like flavoured oil to go with your balsamic vinegar, use sprigs of rosemary, or whole chillis and other robust herbs to add to your bottle of olive oil, leaving it for the flavour to infuse.

End-of-season tomatoes can be 'sun-dried' in the oven, putting them on a tray at the lowest setting for a couple of hours with the oven door just ajar. If you're running out of freezer space and have enough jam and chutney to keep you going until the next millennium, you may just have to find inventive ways to use up your produce. Juicing fruit and veg is a good way of using surplus, although juices will have to be drunk immediately before they oxidise, start changing colour, lose nutrients and look much less appetising.

Really efficient gardeners only grow what they know they're going to eat – so perhaps, as you look at your gluts of courgettes, peppers, radishes and tomatoes, you need to rethink your vegetable plot next year to avoid any ending up on the compost heap.

And remember, only freeze the best of what you grow. If your green beans have gone stringy, they are still going to be stringy when you get them out of the freezer in a month's time.

Enjoy the flavours of a barbecue all year round

AMERICANS and Brits differ in countless ways but when it comes to cooking outdoors, the Yanks are far more daring.

While we like to think we know our way around a barbecue, we generally just throw a few burgers and sausages on the grill a few times a year when there's a heatwave. But for our North American cousins, barbecuing is a way of life that goes on long after the sun has set on summer.

Christian Stevenson is an American on a mission to keep us all barbecuing long into autumn and winter.

"Brits are embracing barbecuing but the supermarkets aren't helping," he says. "People think, summer equals barbecue but that's not the case. Barbecuing should be 365 days a year and the supermarkets need to stock charcoal or wood all year long."

The 46-year-old father-of-three, nicknamed DJ BBQ, is a bundle of energy who's been living in the UK for 18 years. His background is presenting extreme sports but he also DJs and barbecues (hence the nickname) at festivals around the country, cooking and mixing tunes for up to 20 hours a time in what he calls 'catertainment'.

He's now making a big impression on Jamie Oliver's Food Tube network with his larger-than-life personality and star-spangled catsuits earning him thousands of hits.

"My favourite Food Tube videos are the brisket, which is an 18-hour cook, and bacon firebombs. We shot those in November when it was chucking down with rain. Everyone said, 'What are you doing?' But even though it's England and it rains a lot here, this is what I do."

Stevenson was taught to barbecue when he was just eight years old by his dad, who learned from his father before him. Their recipes are among those that feature in his new cookbook, The BBQ Book.

"My grandparents were great cooks, so when my grandfather passed away my father went to all

Try DJ BBQ's recipe for delicious rad rum ribs

RAD RUM RIBS
(serves 8)

1.5kg baby back ribs, membrane removed
Sea salt

For the paste:

5tbsp maple syrup
2tsp chipotle chilli paste
1tbsp ground ginger
1tbsp Worcestershire sauce
11/2tsp sweet paprika
11/2tsp ground cumin
1tsp Chinese five-spice
1/2tsp ground nutmeg

For the rad rum BBQ sauce:

4cm piece of ginger, peeled
3-4 cloves of garlic, peeled
125ml tomato ketchup
60ml dark rum
1tbsp Worcestershire sauce
3tbsp cider vinegar
1tsp Dijon mustard
1/2tsp dried chilli flakes
50g soft dark brown sugar

Combine the paste ingredients and two teaspoons of salt in a bowl. Pat the ribs dry with kitchen paper, then place in a tray and rub all over with the paste. Cover with clingfilm and leave to marinate in the fridge for at least six hours or preferably overnight.

When you want to cook, remove the ribs from the fridge, shake off any excess marinade and allow to come up to room temperature.

Meanwhile, set up your barbecue so half the base is covered in charcoal and the other side is empty - you want a medium indirect heat. Place a drip tray inside the barbecue on the indirect side. Cover with the lid and allow to heat up like an outdoor oven - you want a temperature of around 180C/350F.

Rip off just over an arm's length of extra-strong tinfoil, stack up the ribs in the centre and tightly wrap. Place the foil parcel over indirect heat on the barbecue, cover with the lid and cook for around two hours or until the meat is tender and starts to fall away from the bone, remembering to replenish with hot coals every 45 minutes or so.

Meanwhile, finely grate the ginger and garlic into a small pan on the hob. Add the rest of the BBQ sauce ingredients and 80ml of water. Simmer over a medium heat for around 20 minutes or until thickened, stirring occasionally. Season to taste and set aside.

Remove the ribs from the foil and brush all over with the BBQ sauce and any cooking juices. Return to the indirect heat for another 30-40 minutes with the lid on, or until tender and golden, basting well every 10 minutes or so.

Remove to a board to rest for five minutes, then carve.

his siblings and asked for all the recipes and made a book for everyone in the family of grandma and grandpa's recipes."

Listening to him talk it's almost impossible not to drool, especially when he describes his favourite dish.

"Whenever I went travelling my father would have the same recipe waiting for me: two flank or skirt steaks in a big ziplock with a bottle of Italian dressing, something you buy in the grocery store, and you shake it up and throw it in there. The vinegar would tenderise the meat and then he'd get the charcoal cooking and throw a bunch of potatoes in there and he'd grill that piece of meat and slice it, and that, to me, is the taste of coming home," he says.

"And it's something everybody always loves. They can't believe that Italian dressing can make that piece of meat taste that perfect, but it's got the oils, the peppers, the vinegars, it's the perfect marinade... and it's easy."

He loves barbecuing so much that he sometimes falls out with his wife over it. "My wife's a phenomenal cook so we have arguments. I say 'I want to do the turkey on the barbecue because I've been brining it for two days', and she's says 'No, I want the smell around the house'."

He's excited to be spreading the barbecue love through his Food Tube channel and learning more techniques.

"I'm enjoying this new world," he says. "I've just spent a week in Portugal visiting all my friends in their restaurants and learning a whole bunch of new recipes."

Waking nightmare for a woman with no memory

BEFORE I GO TO SLEEP certificate 15 1h32m

There has been a rich harvest of taut thrillers this year, including the independent American features Blue Ruin and Cold In July and gritty British films Locke and Starred Up.

Based on SJ Watson's bestselling novel, Before I Go To Sleep is guaranteed to jangle nerves and drop a few jaws as summer mellows into autumn.

This ingenious thriller places us in exactly the same hellish predicament as the heroine who wakes up each morning without any memory of the past, including her own identity.

Through the eyes of this terrified woman we absorb scraps of information from supposedly reliable sources and try to piece together the truth, unsure if writer-director Rowan Joffe is leading us a merry dance.

Following a car accident, 47-year-old Christine

Lucas (Nicole Kidman) is diagnosed with anterograde amnesia. Each morning she wakes in a strange bed next to a man she does not know and creeps into the adjacent bathroom where a series of photographs on the wall begin to fill in the blanks, letting her know that the man is her husband Ben (Colin Firth) and they have shared many happy years together.

"You store up information for a day, wake up, and it's all gone," explains Ben, whose love for his wife holds strong.

He leaves for work and Christine continues to learn about her past from information in the house. Then she receives a mysterious telephone call from someone called Dr Nash (Mark Strong), who instructs her to look in the wardrobe.

What follows casts doubt on the facts that underpin Christine's fragile existence. As she reconnects with best friend Claire (Anne-Marie Duff), contradictory testimonies drive her to the brink of insanity.

Before I Go To Sleep drip-feeds the audience fragmented flashbacks, clouding our judgement of characters as they orbit Christine. Kidman captures the fragility of a woman at the mercy of her condition, who knows she must stare into the abyss before sleep robs her of a day's detective work.

Firth and Strong offer sterling support and Joffe cranks up the tension masterfully with each hairpin twist.

The guessing game of who to trust is part of the film's diabolical appeal and the script engineers some wonderful bluffs until a gasp-inducing big reveal that should have audiences teetering precariously on the edge of their seats

THE HUNDRED-FOOT JOURNEY certificate 15 1h33m

Adapted by Steven Knight from the novel by Richard C Morais, The Hundred-Foot Journey is a comedy drama about the battle of wits and flavours between rival restaurateurs in a close-knit French village.

Papa Haji (Om Puri) and his eldest son Hassan (Manish Dayal) flee Mumbai after an arson attack on their restaurant, which results in the death of Papa's wife (Juhi Chawla).

Initially, father and son head for London but the Hajis seek new horizons across Europe. Their van breaks down and they seek refuge in a village which boasts a Michelin star establishment run by widow Madame Mallory (Helen Mirren).

The building across the road happens to be vacant and Papa purchases the property with the intention of opening his own eatery serving traditional Indian fare.

This rivalry sparks hostility between the Hajis and Mallory, which spirals out of control, culminating in an attack on the new restaurant and a period of collaboration.

Aries 21 March - 20 April
The week ahead has two phases. The first enticing you to pay attention to subtle intuitive nudges and the second encouraging action. Tuesday's Full Moon may push you to follow a dream, but try to avoid impractical ideas too. Later, action and adventure call, with a desire to explore fresh options and perhaps to travel. Call now for more news and astral advice...

Taurus 21 April - 21 May
The Full Moon early on can bring a very positive atmosphere to the week, particularly if you're holding a fun event or celebration. Yet, Mercury's clash with Pluto might coincide with an argument as a certain issue comes to a head. There's air of intensity around so go easy, although joint finances get an ongoing positive boost. Call me now for more news and astral advice...

Gemini 22 May - 21 June
Be careful around discussions concerning your career or personal ambitions, as there's a chance of conflicting views - losing you ground in the process. Avoid making important agreements for the first few days, as things may not be as they seem. Later, a key relationship sparkles with fresh energy and incentive as Mars glides into Sagittarius. Call now for your love scope in full...

Cancer 22 June - 23 July
The Pisces Full Moon might coincide with a desire for spiritual or other knowledge that can give you that extra edge, enabling you to live life to the full. You could benefit greatly from this as long as information is from a reliable source. As Mars enters Sagittarius for a few weeks, the urge to exercise can help you lose a few pounds. Call your prediction line for more advice...

Leo 24 July - 23 August
Go easy with joint finances, especially if considering buying on credit, as influences that fudge the facts suggest you could make a costly mistake. Give yourself a few days grace if possible. Plus, should you need to hold an important conversation, avoid jumping to conclusions. From the weekend lively, romantic and creative options show up. Call for your financial scope in full...

Virgo 24 August - 23 September
A Full Moon in your relationship sector comes with an edgy Mercury link that could spell trouble unless handled with care. Over this week, it's best not to tempt fate, particularly when discussing awkward or sensitive issues. Yet, a commitment to a project could prove very rewarding. Home and family affairs scintillate this weekend too. Call for more astral advice...

Libra 24 September - 23 October
There's a chance you may feel a tad unfocused earlier in the week, which can lead to mistakes at work or around everyday tasks and chores. However, things snap back to normal midweek, as an opportunity to negotiate a good deal shows up. Later, interruptions to a plan could bring an unexpected opportunity your way. Call your special prediction line for more news and advice...

Scorpio 24 October - 22 November
There's a heady, romantic Full Moon showing up on Tuesday which can be perfect for a romantic evening out, as long as you refuse to talk about contentious matters. Keep things easy-going to avoid heavier under tones. On another level, inspiration strikes over the weekend and could see you making an unconventional decision. Call now for your love scope in full...

Sagittarius 23 November - 21 December
Complex issues linked with home and family matters could come to a head early on, and may result in a spat unless you can suppress a desire to be blunt. If you can say it like it is without upsetting the apple cart, then positive solutions may be found. Later, as Mars enters your sign you'll likely feel almost reborn and ready to tackle anything. Call for your in-depth forecast...

Capricorn 22 December - 20 January
Try not to make too many promises on Tuesday, as you could find it hard to keep them. Not through any fault of your own, but because circumstances might conspire to upset your best laid plans. It helps to understand, rather than overstate your case. Later, a Venus Pluto link hints that a romance may have far-reaching consequences. Call me now for your love scope in full...

Aquarius 21 January - 19 February
Don't take anything at face value as things may not be as they seem. This includes important purchases and financial transactions too - particularly early on. Yet, Thursday is a different matter, when you'll be able to make money and career decisions based on facts. Finally, your social life can start to sparkle with plenty of opportunities set to emerge. Call me for more...

Pisces 20 February - 20 March
A Full Moon in your sign on Tuesday enhances feelings and dreams. Your priorities may be based on shadowy impulses, so clarify your motives before taking action. From midweek the mist dissolves, with a Mercury Jupiter link helpful for key conversations or interviews. Finally, you'll be keen to take steps that ensure your progress. ## Imposing five-bed family home dates back to the 16th century

THIS week's cover property is one of the most impressive houses in Churchgate Street at Old Harlow.

Dating back to the 16th century and Grade II listed, Meadham House offers spacious family accommodation arranged over three floors, including five bedrooms and two cellars.

On the ground floor is the bespoke solid wood kitchen with an AGA, an integrated Neff oven, gas hob, integrated dishwasher, American-style fridge freezer and slate Fired Earth flooring.

The remainder of the ground floor has solid wood flooring throughout, large sash windows and an impressive Inglenook fireplace.

There is a well proportioned dining hall and a striking panelled drawing room with a hidden trapdoor to the wine cellar and gas coal effect fire. French doors lead out to the garden and terraces.

The well proportioned rooms and high quality finish continue on the first and second floors.

The attractive master bedroom has its own dressing room and en-suite bathroom with a freestanding 'Victoria and Albert' bath and Porcelanosa shower tray. There are a further four bedrooms and two bathrooms.

The attractive York stone terrace has a sunny aspect and there are steps to a further raised terrace with a lawn beyond. All of this is surrounded by mature borders which provides a great deal of privacy.

There is outdoor lighting and electrical sockets while a small garden store - previously used as a bar - also has mains electricity.

There is parking for two cars and further off-street parking.

Call Savills on (01279) 756800 for full details or to arrange a viewing.

Tracey Waples Property Editor

It feels decidedly like the end of summer to me. Schools are open, traffic seems to be back at peak flow and the train station car parks are full as the commuters are all back from holiday.

The first week in September will always have that start of a new term feeling.

A teacher I know has decided to sell her home in the country and move into the centre of Cambridge. She and her husband made the decision back in June but were advised to wait for the market's 'second peak' as they weren't in any desperate hurry.

This second peak is what their agent told them happened without fail every year. Although it's a well-known fact that spring is a great time to sell, apparently this is closely followed by a surge of activity in September and October when a second batch of buyers come out to play.

Don't leave it too long, though, as by the second week in November it seems they have disappeared again as Christmas raises its head and everyone waits until the New Year.

The agent said that if they put their home up for sale at the end of June and it hung around for a few weeks while everyone was on holiday, it wouldn't sell as quickly as it might if they waited until now.

They took his advice and it went on the market on Monday. They've already had an offer and have a second viewing today. It certainly looks as if their agent might be on to something!

Anyone buying around now could be in their new home by Christmas – that fact spurs buyers on, too.

Five-bed detached for £600,000

This detached family home at Bury Road in Old Harlow has recently been extended. It has modern fittings and is beautifully presented.

There are five bedrooms (two with en-suites), a generous open plan kitchen/diner and a ground floor cloakroom.

Outside there is plenty of parking space and an integral garage as well as a well-tended garden.

Bury Road is within walking distance of local shops and schools.

Call Geoffrey Matthew on (01279) 444988 for full details or to arrange a viewing.

On the market for £249,995

Located at the end of a terrace in the Jocelyns area of Old Harlow, this pretty home is surprisingly spacious.

It has a ground floor cloakroom, three bedrooms, a good size lounge and a kitchen/breakfast room which has the potential to enlarge.

There is also a private garden and a garage with driveway.

For full details or to arrange a viewing call Genesis Property Services on (01279) 422422.

Available to rent for £1,295pcm

Available to rent on a six-month tenancy, this charming home at Church Langley has plenty of room for the whole family.

It has a welcoming entrance hall with an impressive ornate staircase. There is a ground floor cloakroom, double glass panel doors opening up to a large lounge, a modern fitted kitchen and four good size bedrooms.

Outside is a pretty garden.

Guardian in Harlow has full details on (01279) 635685.

Spacious end-of-terrace for £214,995

OVERLOOKING open playing fields at Church Leys in Harlow, this spacious end-of-terrace house is close to Bush Fair with its range of local shops and schools.

The entrance hall leads off to the lounge, dining room and a modern fitted kitchen while upstairs there are three bedrooms and a bathroom. The rear garden is laid to lawn with a decking area and rear access.

Why isn't my home selling?

by Angela Westgarth of The Personal Property Shop – a new kind of estate agent in Bishop's Stortford.

It's the one question you just wish someone would answer, "why isn't my home selling?" You keep being told that it's a seller's market and hear stories of houses selling in a matter of hours, so why then is yours STILL on the market?! You ask your estate agent and they once again suggest dropping the price. Sound familiar?

I see far too many properties that simply aren't selling. In the Bishop's Stortford area alone you can find well over 150 properties that haven't sold for between two months and two years! The good news is that price is not often the issue. When scrolling through the numerous properties not selling, in most cases there's a particular trend. The good news – is that normally for very little cost you can make a huge difference – and I'm not going to mention the price!

Who is your ideal buyer?

Have you considered, "what type of buyer are we trying to attract?" A two bedroom flat may well be an appealing option for a first time buyer; whereas a four bedroom detached may well make a wonderful family home. Does your home appeal to that ideal buyer? So many of the properties you see sitting on Rightmove for months are simply not attracting their target market. Most buyers do not have a vivid imagination when they view a property, they need to walk through the door and be wowed. First impressions are formed within just 7 seconds so you need to make sure your home screams "buy me!"

What's the solution?

Create a persona of the ideal buyer for your home; what are they like, what do they do for a living, what do they do at the weekends? Then create a list called "what are they going to want from a home?" Once you know who you are attracting and what they are looking for, you can make sure your home is presented in such a way that it appeals to your target buyer.

What do your photographs say about your home?

In my opinion it doesn't take a professional to take really good property photos, just a bit of planning and common sense. A common theme in properties that aren't selling is poor photography. Ask yourself "do my property photos really stand out from the crowd?"

Are you in the right mindset to sell?

When your home has been on the market for a while it can be incredibly disheartening, "what's wrong with my house?" you may ask yourself. Think of something difficult you have tried to do: perhaps you've given up smoking, lost weight or passed an exam. Maybe you tried several times before you actually achieved your goal. If you look back on your previous attempts, why did they fail when achievement was clearly in your grasp? It's all to do with mindset. In the wise words of Henry Ford "those who believe they can and those that believe they can't are both generally right."

But when you're selling your home, it's not in your control whether your viewers actually offer or not, right? Wrong! Of course, you can't force them to make an offer, but you can make sure that you are totally focused on your goal of selling. Make a list of all the reasons you want to move. Write them in two columns: one list for your motivations to move out, and the other for all the reasons you want to move to the place you have chosen. Keep this list taped to the inside of a kitchen cupboard you use every day. Read it often, and use it to motivate you to get out the vacuum cleaner one more time for a viewing; or polish the bathroom taps, or clean the front door.

Do	Don't
De-clutter and maximise space, for example clear away cosmetics in your bathroom and put them in cupboards	Let your pets ruin your photos! They're best kept out of the way along with bowls, toys etc. Not every buyer will be a fan of your beloved pets
Switch on all available lights including lamps and down-lights	End up snapped in your photos! We call this the "vendor bomb"
Add some fresh flowers in a vase to brighten up rooms in your home	Date your photos e.g. Christmas trees make it obvious that your home went on the market in the winter
Encourage your agent to take 'lifestyle shots' showing off the local area or particular features of your home	Settle for below par photos - ask your estate agent to retake them if you're not 100% happy with them

Your choice in Education 2014

WELCOME to EDUCATION 2014.

This is your guide to the very best educational establishments in our area.

From pre-school through to sixth form colleges, this is the place to start. Exam results are not the only way to judge a school or college.

Ofsted reports, not to mention good, old-fashioned word of mouth, are always good indicators as to whether a place may suit you and your child.

However, there's nothing quite like a visit to get a feel for a place, and many of the establishments in this guide are holding special open days where you can go along, have a chat and see the facilities. Many also welcome visitors all year round with a little advance warning.

Whether you're thinking of private education or are looking for the best in state education, you've taken the best first step by reading this – now it's time to plan your visits.

Young people have a small taste of government

"RUNNING for class president" is a staple of many US teen shows aired on British TV – where the ambitious pocket-Hillary, the junior Machiavelli, the chirpy geek and the dark-horse outsider vie for a place on their school's youth representation panel.

Over on our side of the pond, with as much or as little drama as the candidates desire, we have school councils, youth councils and Youth Parliaments to give pupils a hands-on introduction to the democratic process and its ramifications.

School councils exist in most schools across the country, both in the primary and secondary divisions.

A school council is a group of students who have volunteered, then been officially proposed and elected by their peers to sit on the council for the school year, term or however long their tenure is.

Often chosen as class representatives, or year reps, they are there to represent the views of the student body, and to make suggestions to, and raise issues with teachers and school governors. They can also outline and inaugurate projects on behalf of their peers, such as cultural events or different societies.

Often the school council is consulted – if not actively involved – regarding strategic planning and issues the school development plan and recruitment of new staff.

School councils aim to encourage young people to get involved in the actual running of the school – and campaigning, working out strategy and manifesto and presenting them all to the year group can build confidence and articulation.

An effective school council will help pupils to not just enjoy being in the school environment, but feel empowered within it, as the school listens to their opinions and needs and acts on them to help them feel that they are making their school a better place.

The councils give pupils a mouthpiece for their views, and getting involved provides a chance to develop life skills such as debate, listening and delegation.

Employing many of the skills and processes involved in school councils, but at a municipal level, there are also youth councils in most boroughs.

Across the UK, there are more than 600 youth councils providing a forum for young people of secondary school age to represent their views and the issues that represent them within their town as opposed to only their school.

There are a set number of seats on the youth councils, and candidates plan and run their own campaigns within their schools to get their peers to vote for them. The council organisers give guidelines to the candidates related to what they can and cannot do or within their drive for votes.

Generally coming under the umbrella of a local council and working with all levels of local government, they are run by young people for young people. Unaffiliated to any one political party, they nonetheless do make contact with different parties and groups, as well as MPs and Parliamentary candidates.

Youth councils meet to discuss relevant issues with local decision makers: as well as their own meetings, they often attend full council sessions and shadow individual ward councillors.

And finally, if young people want to take their democratic skills to a national level, there is the UK Youth Parliament – UKYP. Like the local youth councils, it's run by young people for young people, and it provides a national stage and wider opportunities for 11- to 18-year-olds to develop their voices, energy and passion and use them to bring about social change.

The UK Youth Parliament, which began in 2000, exists in 90 per cent of constituencies and has 600 elected MYPs (Members of Youth Parliament). The MYPs stand and are voted in in youth elections held every two years throughout the UK.

Any young person aged 11-18 can stand or vote – and it's estimated that more than half a million young people have voted in UK Youth Parliament elections.

Once in office, the MYPs organise events and projects related to young peoples' issues, and campaign and lobby decision makers on the same issues.

They have meetings and debates amongst themselves on a regular basis, and all the MYPs meet once a year at the UK Youth Parliament annual sitting, and their views and suggestions are published in the UK Youth Parliament

Harlow University

SITUATED within the grounds of the Harlow College Campus on Velizy Avenue, University Centre Harlow has a range of higher education courses and learning opportunities available for everyone.

Adults are really welcome at Harlow College, and University Centre Harlow now hosts a dynamic range of higher education courses in state-of-the-art surroundings.

These offer students the chance to gain a foundation degree or honours degree, taught by staff with a high level of vocational, as well as academic, experience in their field.

Since 2010, University Centre Harlow has expanded its offer for higher education courses in Harlow.

The range of courses available will grow in the years to come and this means local students will have access to a cost-effective university education that is both high quality and close to home.

University Centre Harlow's tuition fees are £7,000 per year for 2014/15.

Most universities charge around £9,000 per year. In addition, every full-time student on a degree course at UCH is entitled to £400 for every year of study.

You may even be eligible for a fee reduction of up to £2,600.

Edwinstree School

EDWINSTREE is a Church of England Middle School set in a beautiful expanse of playing fields in the medieval town of Buntingford.

This is an oversubscribed school and aims to blend moral and traditional values with innovation and forward thinking, to develop pupils into positive contributors to our future world.

The school is delighted to have been recognised by Ofsted as an 'outstanding school'.

This reflects the commitment from parents, the dedication of staff, the support of governors and the enthusiasm and diligence of pupils.

Edwinstree's greatest ambassadors are the pupils who will be delighted to give visitors a tour of the school at the open evening on Thursday October 9 from 6.15pm to 8pm or at the open morning on Wednesday October 15 from 10.30am - 11.30am.

Haileybury

MANY schools describe themselves as offering an 'all-round education' and much emphasis is placed upon their range of extra-curricular clubs and activities – from chess to cheerleading, squash to scuba diving.

Haileybury is different. The bespoke education Haileybury offers does not depend on children choosing 'bolt-on' options in order to balance their academic studies; its co-curricular programme is fundamental to a Haileybury education – it is a way of life.

Whether Haileyburians enter the school at 11, 13 or 16, the college strives to ensure all pupils fulfil their academic potential.

The college prides itself on discovering as well as nurturing talent and offers a personalised learning experience that encourages intellectual exploration and practical ambition.

Sport, music, art and drama are not just optional extras but ensure pupils engage outside the classroom and learn key life skills which will stand them in good stead for university and the wider world beyond.

For further information, or to attend an open morning, you are warmly invited to contact the registrar, Iona Hutchinson.

Henham and Ugley

HENHAM and Ugley Primary and Nursery School is a busy, happy place set within the delightful village of Henham, within easy access of Takeley, Stansted and Bishop's Stortford.

With its consistent, caring ethos the school is proud to combine an engaging curriculum and excitement for learning with high standards of attainment, strong individual progress at all levels and a lively range of extra-curricular activities.

Music and sport feature strongly. The school was recently awarded the Gold 'Active Mark' for the second year running – the only school in Uttlesford to achieve this.

Throughout the school children show a confidence in taking responsibility, learning together with mutual respect.

Take the opportunity to visit on Wednesday October 1 2014 to see how everyone works together to ensure that learning is enjoyable, challenging and rewarding: with a keen focus on enabling all children to achieve their very best.

Howe Green

ACORNS Nursery and Howe Green House School looks forward to welcoming new headmistress, Mrs Debbie Mills, who takes over at the start of the new academic year.

With parents, staff and children involved in the recruitment process, the feeling is one of excitement as Mrs Mills prepares to take the school forward in the next stage of its development.

Acorns Nursery, for two-year-olds, is a self-contained nursery running within the heart of this family orientated school.

All staff are experienced and highly qualified.

This, coupled with a maximum number of 16 places per session, ensures that children receive an excellent level of care and education.

Nursery manager, Mrs Julie Sellaars said: "The term-time nursery, which is open not just to those wishing to join the school, is a wonderful learning environment which also has the benefit of access to Howe Green House School's outstanding resources."

Howe Green House School caters for children from three to 11 years and consists of a number of beautifully appointed buildings which help to create the feeling of a small and friendly community in which children thrive.

In addition to the bright and airy classrooms, there is a Resource Centre housing a new ICT suite and library and a building dedicated to the teaching of art and CDT.

Add this to the varied array of musical and sporting opportunities on offer, and set in a lovely rural landscape just two miles from the centre of Bishop's Stortford, why not visit Howe Green House to see for yourself?

Hockerill

IN March this year the Department for Education published performance tables which showed Hockerill as the top performing school for the English Baccalaureate, fifth for 5+ A-C and third for GCSE average point score.

Just last month the Daily Telegraph's league tables placed Hockerill as the top comprehensive for sixth form.

In the last few years Hockerill has been awarded Sunday Times IB School of the Year and became the first state boarding school to receive 'outstanding' in all categories under the new OFSTED "no-notice" inspection.

Situated on a leafy campus in Bishop's Stortford, Hockerill is a strong, caring community of some 300 boarders and 500 day students offering the full range of subjects on the national curriculum supported by an extensive variety of extra-curricular clubs and activities.

It has a particular focus on languages and music with both French/English and German/English bilingual sections.

Day places are free and boarding represents outstanding value for money. Boarders have the opportunity to experience a wonderful environment and to gain vital life skills.

Hockerill is placed in the top band for all key measures of progress and examinations used in Ofsted's Data Dashboard (www.dashboard.gov.uk).

St Joseph's in the Park

WHAT do we want for children in their experience at school?

The aim, particularly in early and primary years education, is to provide stable foundations academically, socially and emotionally; enabling children to stand, with increasing independence, on their own two feet.

St Joseph's in the Park has always known that these years are the most important.

Since 1898, when the school first opened in Hertford, and since 1947 in its unique location in Hertingfordbury, the primary aim has been to provide each child with the opportunity and challenge to achieve their very best.

In addition, by promoting traditional values, this school and its pupils possess a strong identity within the community.

What St Joseph's in the Park offers develops character and ensures that the children understand and develop positive relationships, embracing individuality of spirit and self-reliance.

The breadth of their experience through school not only enables the discovery and development of talents but also how they can more effectively care for others within the school's family and the wider world. The "Good Start" that "Never Stops" lays strong foundations for senior school and ensures that they will be lifelong learners, happy and successful in their life beyond St Joseph's In The Park.

Saint Nicholas School

PUPILS at Saint Nicholas School achieved excellent results in their GCSEs this year.

Overall, there was a 74 per cent pass rate for those recording at least five GCSEs including mathematics and English, which is a ten per cent rise on last year.

More than one in five examinations were graded A* or A, 48 per cent were graded at least a B, and more than a third of pupils gained ten or more A*-C grades.

Head teacher Keith Knight said: "I am delighted with the strength of our results across the key GCSE subjects, with the percentage of A*-C in the core subjects of English language 77 per cent, which is 62 per cent nationally, and mathematics 90 per cent, which is 62 per cent nationally.

"The approach of the school is to ensure that all pupils take a broad and balanced academic GCSE curriculum and not GCSE-equivalent qualifications.

"As a broadly non-selective entry school we are rightly proud of our pupils' successes, which are once more a tribute to our dedicated parents, staff and pupils who have a positive attitude to work and are prepared to give all that it takes to be successful."

Harlow College

AN incredibly friendly and dynamic place to study, Harlow College 'will get you where you want to be'.

At its core are shared values:

- Students at the heart
- Work hard, work together
- Be the best
- Always be innovative and enterprising

With outstanding student success, Harlow College students make better progress than their peers nationally.

There has been a 94 per cent success rate three years in a row and A-level achievement was 100 per cent also for a third year in a row.

This year, 28 students secured places at Russell Group universities.

The college is in the top one per cent of further education provision in the country and is always looking to innovate and do things better.

This has been recognised through the Association of Colleges Beacon Awards, regarded as the 'Oscars of FE'.

Harlow College has won an award for the past two years, firstly for quality improvement and last year for innovation.

There is an exciting range of courses from foundation through to degree level. As well as tailored academies for young people to learn and study and a sixth form centre, there is also a university centre.

University Centre Harlow offers the opportunity to gain a 'degree on your doorstep', as well as pre-university access and professional courses.

Learning at the heart of the community

The Helena Romanes School and Sixth Form Centre

"This is a good school"
Ofsted November 2012

Open Morning

Saturday 4th October 9.30am – 1.00pm

An opportunity for your family to have full access to our school. You can meet us and get to know our best ambassadors – our students. Your child will enjoy interactive experiences and hands-on activities across all subjects. Ultimately the day is all about enjoying learning and learning is at the heart of our community.

For further information or a prospectus please contact Bev Louth, Admissions Secretary - blouth@helena-roman.essex.sch.uk

Helen Romanes School

THE Helena Romanes School and Sixth Form Centre is committed to providing students with a first-class educational experience.

It aims to work in partnership with parents and their children, valuing, encouraging and ensuring success within a climate of high expectations.

The school works hard to maintain focus on the individual student and their personal journey through the school.

The school is a centre of excellence in many fields, offering all who work and study the opportunity to succeed at the highest levels.

The Helena Romanes School aims to continue to grow, to improve and to ensure that all are proud to be part of its learning community.

The school's passion for learning is best appreciated by visiting and meeting students, staff and governors.

There is an open morning on Saturday, October 4 from 9.30am to 1pm where there will be presentations by students and the head teacher.

Your child can participate in a range of activities in all subjects, and staff will be on hand to answer your questions.

Other occasions to visit the school include coffee mornings held throughout September and October.

These provide a chance to meet with the head teacher, discuss the school and to see it function on a normal day. Booking is essential.

For further information, or to book a coffee morning tour, telephone admissions secretary Bev Louth on

Duncombe School

DUNCOMBE School is dedicated to education in the widest sense and offers an individualised and engaging learning experience for each child.

Every pupil is encouraged to give of their best, be it academically, creatively, socially or on the games field, and to discover their particular talents.

With its breakfast club and after-school programme, Duncombe provides a happy and stimulating environment from 7.30am to 6pm. The opportunities continue in the holiday activities which run for pupils throughout the summer, at Christmas and at Easter.

Earlier this year, Duncombe and its nursery, Treetops, were declared '100 per cent outstanding' by the School Inspection Service. Head teacher Jeremy Phelan said: "We are very proud that Duncombe was judged to be 'outstanding' in each of the seven stringent SIS standards – a rare accolade. It is a tribute to the hard work of the whole school community and is confirmation that Duncombe is clearly achieving our aim of providing every pupil with the best preparatory experience."

Bishop's Stortford College

AS one of the leading independent co-educational schools in the country, Bishop's Stortford College has established a simple ethos and atmosphere which makes learning and achieving academically a fundamental part of college life.

The college is large enough to provide an exceptional range of opportunities for developing well-rounded, skilful and happy young people and yet small enough for pupils to be known and valued.

Breadth of opportunity is a notable strength as pupils are inspired to dive deeper and explore wider, developing a Stortfordian spirit which lasts a lifetime.

The college also takes great pride in its sporting heritage with a reputation for success founded on the principles of excellence and enjoyment.

Every pupil is encouraged, taught and challenged to fulfil his or her true potential, by being immersed in an environment of discovery and wholehearted participation.

Coopersale Hall

COOPERSALE Hall School's annual prize day was given an extra dose of glamour this year when international model and photographer Penny Lancaster and European, Commonwealth and world swimming champion, Mark Foster visited to speak to the school and present prizes to many hard working prizewinners.

Prize day took place just after a team of ISI school inspectors arrived to check on Coopersale Hall as part of the school's normal cycle of inspections.

The report, published recently shows that the school achieved 'outstanding' in all areas. The detailed inspection report is featured on the school's newly launched website.

It isn't only term times that have been busy; there has also been an extensive programme of summer holiday activities to keep children from across the Oak Tree Group busy over the seven-week holiday.

Children aged from two and a half to 11 years old enjoyed courses such as multi-sports, drama and early years fun time.

Kaye Lovejoy said: "Our parents were very grateful that we were able to offer this service to break up the long summer holiday."

"The children had fun and kept active, while the parents were able to work or take a well-deserved break!"

Coopersale Hall's next open morning is on Friday October 10 at 9.15am.

The Bishop's Stortford High School

THE Bishop's Stortford High School prides itself on being an academic school which maintains high standards and expectations, within a Christian ethos.

In partnership with parents, the school promotes traditional values and maintains good discipline in order to provide an environment in which all students can enjoy high quality teaching and really focus on learning.

The school believes that students flourish if they lead rich and varied lives and the fantastic commitment of our staff means it is able to provide an extra-curricular programme that is second to none. Such opportunities to develop skills and qualities beyond the classroom ensure students are given the support and encouragement they really need to succeed.

TBSHS is a great school, staffed with passionate, inspirational teachers and is a special place for students to learn and grow.

Visit and see the energy and enthusiasm for yourself.

Personal Accountability

Many properties in the Harlow area are as unique and distinctive as the people who buy them.

So when selling yours, it is most important that your estate agent has a thorough understanding not only of your property, but also of the needs and preferences of every buyer who views it.

It is simply not good enough to load the property onto "the system" and hope for a sale, especially in this market. The promotion and sale of every property requires a highly personal approach. This is why both Barbara and I are still personally interested and involved in nearly every sale handled by our sales team here at Howick & Brooker Estate Agents. Our reputation hangs on it.

We are proud to say that we have been successfully marketing properties in Harlow and the surrounding villages for nearly 40 years! During that time many of our clients have commented that they have really appreciated the time and personal commitment we have been able to dedicate to their sale. This has in each case led to an understanding of people's circumstances and requirements that has enabled us to harness opportunities that a more corporate approach would undoubtedly have missed. Additionally there are issues of security and confidentiality that are often associated with the sale of unique properties such as many of those currently featured on our website.

Ultimately it's about professionalism and a level of personal accountability that we do not believe others seek to match. Our staff are selected to reflect our own passion for accountability and I know we can rely on them to deliver to our own standards. Sometimes we can be rather selective as to what we accept on our books. But only in this way can we guarantee that your sale will be handled with the dedication and commitment it deserves.

If you'd like to find out more about how having the right people involved in your sale can make a big difference then please feel free to call me for a confidential initial chat on 01279 401903.

MII BY MANGO ARRIVES IN TIME FOR NEW REGISTRATIONS AT CMC SEAT HARLOW

- CMC SEAT Harlow thrilled at showroom debut of Mii by MANGO
- 'Halo model' set to be especially popular with female buyers
- Auto Express New Car Awards wins for Leon is further boost to brand

You can always be sure of a buzz around car showrooms when new registrations arrive and it's that time of year when leading car retailer CMC SEAT Harlow is poised to see a surge of interest in cars made by the Barcelona-based brand.

This month sees the arrival in its showroom in Edinburgh Way of the Mii by MANGO which is the result of a tie-up with Spanish fashion retailer MANGO. As an added incentive to snap up this exciting newcomer SEAT has been handing out to buyers free MANGO accessory packs comprising a suede handbag, umbrella and two fashion pouches.

The stylish looks of SEAT's award-winning Leon and the fact that the young-spirited carmaker has a comparatively high percentage of female buyers already has given the brand every confidence the Mii by MANGO will prove to be extremely popular.

Two exclusive exterior finishes are available on the Mii by MANGO: Nude and Deep Black. Exterior badging, dark grey 15-inch alloy wheels and heated electric door mirrors also help mark it out from standard models.

Other unique interior touches include grey accents, leather steering wheel and gear knob. Another eye-catching feature is Alcantara upholstered seats and Mii by MANGO lettering stitched into the headrests. This special edition also comes with a hook on the glove box to safely hang a bag, as well as specifically designed floor mats, door sills and key fob.

The Mii by MANGO, which is available in three or five door body styles, comprises an impressive line-up of standard kit including air conditioning, the SEAT Portable System Live, hill hold control, remote controlled central locking and front electric windows.

Mii by MANGO – heralded as the new halo model for the Mii range – is powered exclusively by the punchy 75PS version of the VW Group's three-cylinder 1.0-litre engine with five-speed manual gearbox, offering a combination of sound performance with impressive eco credentials. This frugal engine returns good fuel economy figures of 60.1 mpg, while emitting 108g/km of CO2. On-the-road prices are £10,995 for the three door and £11,345 for the five. The car can also be bought from £85 per month on a zero per cent finance offer.

CMC SEAT Harlow is also celebrating SEAT's recent success when it scooped an amazing three awards for its Leon range at the recent 2014 Auto Express New Car Awards.

In a stunning 'hat trick' of wins for its best-selling line-up, Leon, it picked up the 'Small Family Car' award, plus 'Best Estate Car' for the ST and 'Best Hot Hatch' for CUPRA.

Commenting on the Leon's impressive triple award haul, Auto Express Editor-in-Chief Steve Fowler said: "This is an unprecedented hat-trick for the Leon – last year's overall Car of the Year. The Leon hatch remains our pick of the compact family car class with its blend of quality, kit, efficiency, great drive and style. It's joined in the winners' circle by the Leon ST, taking all that's great about the hatch and adding a spacious and cleverly thought-out boot – it's easily the best estate car you can buy.

"Then there's the Leon CUPRA – a brilliant hot hatch that provides old-school thrills with the latest tech to make it a seriously quick and fun car to drive, and that looks a million dollars yet costs anything but."

CMC SEAT Harlow is equally thrilled at a series of other new introductions, which are set to bolster the Barcelona-based brand's performance even further. The recent launch of I-TECH special editions across the Mii, Ibiza, Toledo, Altea and Alhambra ranges, plus the special edition Ibiza 30 years – to celebrate the flagship model's birthday – are destined to cement SEAT's standing still further.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Finance Officer

£24,060 - £25,086 per annum 37.5 hours per week

With a housing stock of nearly 10,000 properties, Harlow Council has risen to the new challenges brought about by the introduction of the self-financing arrangements for its Housing Revenue Account. This will involve the ongoing sound financial management and monitoring of an HRA Business Plan, as well as a large housing capital programme to deliver and maintain decent homes for its tenants and leaseholders.

The Council is looking for someone to assist in a wide range of activities, principally the preparation and monitoring of budgets, the closure of year-end accounts and completion of government returns.

The team also has responsibility for the Council's treasury management portfolio and making VAT returns.

Reporting to one of three Senior Service Accountants, you will:

- Ideally possess an HNC qualification in Finance or Accounts. Intermediate membership of The Association of Accounting Technicians would be advantageous.
- Have experience of budgeting, budget monitoring and closure of accounts.
- Be able to use Financial Management Systems to extract, interpret and report data.
- Ideally have local government finance experience, and a working knowledge of the Housing Revenue Account and capital programme would be advantageous.
- Be able to work as a member of a team with minimal appropriate supervision.

(Ref: AC0084)

We offer a generous annual leave entitlement, a Career Average Revalued Earnings Pension Scheme, and a Corporate Childcare Voucher Scheme.

For an application form, please visit www.harlow.gov.uk/jobs

Closing date: 15 September 2014. Interview date: 2 October 2014.

Harlow Council's Independent Remuneration Panel makes recommendations to the Council on the allowances paid to elected Councillors.

Join the Independent Remuneration Panel

Do you have a thorough understanding of public life? Are you interested in local democracy? Do you have sound judgement skills and the ability to think independently?

Vacancies have arisen for up to three members of the panel with immediate effect. Applicants will need to show a capacity for independent thinking and a sound judgement, with submissions particularly welcome from people who have experience of any of the following areas:

- Public sector evaluator or other professional.
- An academic/consultancy expert in a related field.
- A private or voluntary sector or Union representative (not a City, District or Parish Council employee).
- A person of well-known public standing, such as from one of the local faith communities.

The panel will consist of at least three members and the usual term of office is four years. Panel members are expected to contribute their time freely, as a public service, although travel and subsistence expenses are reimbursed.

If you would like to know more about the work of the panel, or the process of appointment, please telephone Brian Keane, Interim Head of Governance, on 01279 446037 (during normal office hours).

If you are interested in applying, please enclose your CV or a completed application form (available at www.harlow.gov.uk/jobs) to Brian Keane, Interim Head of Governance, Harlow District Council, The Civic Centre, The Water Gardens, Harlow CM20 1WG, or email: brian.keane@harlow.gov.uk

Closing date: 15 September 2014.

Interviews will be held in September 2014 with the newly formed panel expected to meet for the first time in October 2014.

We are committed to interviewing all applicants with a disability who meet the minimum criteria. Jobs may be available on a job share basis.

Care & Learning Support Worker

£17,334 - £19,624 per annum

THESE ARE CARE ROLES WITH A DIFFERENCE

St Elizabeth's Further Education College is for young adults with learning difficulties and/or disabilities. We currently have vacancies for Care & Learning Support Workers to work within our multi-disciplinary team providing a 3 year Independence Programme for the students aged 18 - 25, helping them acquire skills for independent living. Committed and caring with a background in Care or Learning or looking to develop a career in this field.

We work a variable shift system, 5 days in 7, with every other weekend off. Ideally you would have achieved a Level 2 qualification in Health & Social Care (Adults) or be working towards it. The college has bases in both Bishop's Stortford and Much Hadham

We offer competitive salaries plus excellent range of staff benefits:

- Optional childcare vouchers
- Voluntary group income protection plan
- Contributory pension scheme
- High street discounts
- Enhanced holidays
- On-site cafeteria
- Life assurance
- Leisure and travel offers
- Free on-site parking

We offer flexibility in hours within the needs of the service, with fixed rotas (so you know your days off well ahead) and with scope for you to 'shift swaps' with colleagues.

Given our rural location, we operate subsidised transport to and from Harlow & Bishop's Stortford. Additionally, a number of staff choose to organise 'car shares' with colleagues to and from work.

Closing Date: 19 September 2014 5pm

Interviews: 29 September 2014

To apply visit www.stelizabeths.org.uk or call 01279 843451, quoting job reference number 127.

St Elizabeth's Centre is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of all children and adults who use our services and expects all staff to share this commitment. All posts are subject to enhanced DBS clearance. We are an equal opportunities employer committed to diversity and we welcome applications from all parts of the community.

Kinney shows plenty of Yorkshire grit with double header

BUSY Harlow Running Club member Andy Kinney completed another double header at the weekend.

On Saturday he ran the Huddersfield Park run 5K, finishing in 242nd place out of 549 finishers in 27 minutes dead.

Then on Sunday he ran the Halifax Half Marathon, taking 94th place out of 120 finishers in 2 hours, 32.27.

Meanwhile at the Gunpowder Park run 5K at Waltham Abbey, Jason Haigh was 17th out of 101 finishers in 22.19. He was followed home by Brendon Maclean, who was 18th in 22.19, a personal best (PB) time for the distance.

Robin Lozeau was 26th in 22.54 and Holly Nairn came 45th in a PB of 26.22.

At the Great Notley Park run 5K, Vicky Calver finished in 53rd place out of 90 in a PB of 29.47.

At the Valentines Park run 5K at Ilford, Katie Muirhead came home 67th out of 211 finishers in 27.01.

At the multi-terrain and hilly Takeley 10K, Jamie Jephcott was 18th out of 330 finishers in a superb 42.33.

He was followed home by Gary Godfrey (30th in 44.41), Daniel Jephcott (38th in 45.47), Pasquale Pellucchia (46th and second veteran 60 in 46.11), Paul Dixon (80th in 48.31), Vicky Steadman (99th in 49.42), Robin Lozeau (108th in 50.43) and Janice Page (233rd in 60.43).

Top 20 finish for Ethan at European Championships

RISING table tennis starlet Ethan Walsh has returned from competing at the European Mini Championships in France.

The 12-year-old BATTs table tennis club member, who is soon to head off to China for a training camp, was 20th from 160 competitors in Strasbourg.

He won his first three groups then came runner-up in a fourth group stage, which then put him in the main draw where the top 22 players competed for the top positions.

However, Ethan lost his next match and he ended up in 20th.

This was a great achievement considering he was competing against such a large field, but ambitious Ethan was disappointed as he wanted to finish in the top 10.

Ethan is currently coached by top-ranked senior England player, Adam Nutland, head coach at BATTs, based in Old Harlow.

This year Ethan won the English U-12 national title. He previously won an U-11 national title in 2013.

He said: "I plan to become one of England's best ever table tennis players and the number one for as many years as I can."

"I may need to move abroad eventually, which I would do if I needed to."

Ethan's rise to stardom started when he was picked to train at the Lillleshall National Sports Centre with the England U-15 squad when he was just nine.

From there he was picked to play for England in a Six Nations tournament in Scotland.

Last year he competed in the European Mini Championships in Belgium.

Ethan had the opportunity to play against two former world champions earlier this month. Swedish players Jan-Ove Waldner and Jorgen Persson held a training camp at BATTs, based at the Norman Booth Leisure Centre in Elderfield.

Road to Wembley begins as Hawks beat 10 men

MILLWALL fan and sports journalist Mark Litchfield is on a voyage of discovery which he hopes will lead him all the way to the FA Cup Final in May.

He watched Spartan South Midland League side Baldock Town in the extra preliminary round of the historic competition as they beat Hatfield Town.

And on Sunday he ventured to Hitchin Town's ground, where Baldock play their home matches, to watch the preliminary round tie between Baldock and HARLOW TOWN.

With the Hawks winning that tie, he will now follow Danny Chapman's in the first qualifying round when they play away to Grays Athletic on September 13.

He will then follow the victor of this tie in the second qualifying round as he makes his way on the road to Wembley.

Here's his account of Sunday's tie at Top Field, a 3-0 win for Harlow.

TWO strikes in the final five minutes condemned plucky Baldock Town to defeat in their FA Cup preliminary qualifying round tie against Harlow Town on Sunday.

Chinedu McKenzie and Fabion Simms put the game beyond doubt in the 85th and 89th minutes respectively, following up Alex Read's opener from the penalty spot after 18 minutes, as Baldock goalkeeper Nick Stilwell saw red for bringing down the goalscorer inside the box.

The tie saw the tenth tier meet the eighth, as Spartan South Midlands League outfit Baldock hosted their Ryman League division one north counterparts, Harlow Town.

Pic: Ian Bush (s)

After an even start to the game, the pendulum swung the way of the visitors in the 15th minute.

A neat passage of passing from the Hawks, ended with Read bearing down on goal. Town keeper Stilwell had no choice but to upend the number 10, receiving his marching orders as a result.

Seventeen-year-old reserve custodian Connor Hills' first job was to pick the ball out of his net, as Read dusted himself down and slotted home to give Harlow the lead.

The home side tried to get back into the game and, despite their man disadvantage, almost proved successful in doing so, with the influential Jack Gregson pulling the strings.

Their main chance – their golden chance – fell at the feet of Nathan Aulsberry just past the hour.

A ball in behind the visiting defence was somehow fumbled by Hawks stopper Tristan Hickman, but as the goal gaped for Aulsberry, he inexplicably shot wide, to the horror of everyone associated with Baldock inside Top Field.

Ten-man Baldock continued to pepper the Harlow goal, with Gregson testing Hickman on a couple of occasions, but their efforts were in vain as five minutes from time, the game was sealed.

The outstanding Hills blocked yet another Read strike, but could only palm the ball into the path of substitute McKenzie, who thumped home, sending the visiting fans and management into ecstasy.

A third goal was added shortly before the end as Read and Simms combined in the box, with the latter sliding home past Hills, giving the scoreline a somewhat harsh gloss from a Baldock perspective.

The full-time whistle blew not long after and Baldock's FA Cup adventure was over.

The journey now continues with Harlow Town, as they prepare to meet Grays in the first qualifying round on Saturday September 13.

HARLOW TN: Hickman, Glasgow, Eadie, Urquhart, Kendall, Small (Fry 87), Stamp (McKenzie 57), Nwanze (Lorenzani 45), Simms, Read, Cowley. Subs not used: Norton, Thompson (gk).

Back-to-back promotions sealed as Harlow leave Wanstead flat

HARLOW thirds secured the Shepherd Neame Essex League division three title on Saturday, sealing their second successive promotion campaign as they beat Wanstead.

Dave Whellams won the toss and chose to bowl.

Mudasser Naeem (1-29) and Soulat Ali (2-12) restricted the run rate as the Wanstead batsmen dug in.

Whellams picked up 2-29 before some hard hitting from Usman (49 not out) advanced the total to 181 from 52 overs.

In reply, Dip Basnet was bowled first ball and Burton followed for one.

The innings was precarious at 30-3 but a partnership of 120 between Faz Javed and Dave Rogerson put it back on track.

Javed went on to hit 110 off 60 balls and Rogerson made 29, the game wrapped up for the loss of seven wickets (187-7).

Whellams said: "It has been an enjoyable season with Harlow playing some fine cricket. The side has benefitted from being able to field a familiar team most weeks and the standard of cricket has been high. We have won 13 games out of the 15 we have played."

Harlow's first team climbed to fourth in the table with one game to play, after they overhauled Hutton by three wickets.

Having won the toss and electing to bowl, Rehman Ahmed's side dismissed their opponents for 175.

Nicky Baxter impressed with 3-39 from his 11 overs, and Imran Qadir required just 2.3 overs to dismiss three tailenders. Luke Monger (2-28) also bowled a tidy spell.

Harlow did not make life easy for themselves in their reply, and five batsmen did not reach double figures.

Fortunately, the dependable Ahmed Khawaja (82) was on hand to steady the ship, and all-rounder Luke Heskett provided excellent support. Heskett registered his maiden first team half-century before he was bowled for 54.

Monger and Baxter knocked off the remaining runs and Harlow were home.

A fixture against league leaders Colchester at Marigolds this Saturday stands between them and a very respectable top half finish.

After securing promotion last week the next step for the fourth XI was to finish as champions.

Losing the toss and being put in to bat by Oakfield Parkonians, Harlow amassed 250-8 before declaring as Rohan Ashwani recorded his maiden century for the club with 101 not out.

The Oakfield cause was helped by Harlow's leading wicket taker Sarwat Ali being carried from the pitch with a back problem.

Nonetheless a flurry of wickets slowed their progress and they held out for a draw.

Callum Sykes (2-12) and Waqas Ahsan (2-10) were the pick of the bowling.

"This is an outstanding achievement – the four finished second from bottom in division two in 2010 and four seasons on we'll be playing premier league next year," said captain Rob Coldwell.

"This shows how much this club is going forward and progressing. We're a strong unit and I firmly believe we could give most second teams a good game."

There was less cause for optimism for Harlow twos, who were defeated at home by Fives & Heronians.

Having lost the toss Harlow were inserted, and were quickly in trouble as young starlet Alan Jones was clean bowled for six.

Wickets tumbled and at 85-6 it took a lower order stand of 76 between Andre Riddell and Tom Ryder to steer Harlow to a respectable total.

Riddell was dismissed for 37 and Ryder went on to an unbeaten 58 as Harlow posted 192-7.

Unlike their opposition, Harlow were unable to find an early breakthrough, and when wickets fell it was a case of too little, too late.

Experienced Fives skipper Neil Braithwaite compiled an assured 84 and his team-mates did enough to keep Harlow at bay.

Dan Stopp (3-33) provided some hope but the afternoon ended in defeat.

UP-AND-COMING ATHLETE READY TO TAKE LEAP INTO BIG TIME

Olympic goal for rising star Harryman

alan.scott@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HAVING beaten a points haul recorded by Olympic gold medalist Denise Lewis as a 16-year-old earlier this year, Harlow Athletic Club member and heptathlete Naomi Harryman is certainly a girl with a very bright future ahead of her.

Naomi (16) completed her GCSEs at Harlow's St Mark's School earlier this summer.

She one day hopes to emulate the Olympic achievements of her hero, Jessica Ennis-Hill, and recalls watching in awe as Sheffield's finest stormed to gold in London 2012.

Naomi has moved up to third in the UK rankings for U-17s this season.

September will be a busy month as she takes part in the UK-wide Sainsbury's Schools Games in Manchester next weekend, when she represents the South East England in the long jump.

Naomi then competes in the heptathlon when she represents Essex in the English Schools Championships at Boston, Lincolnshire on September 20.

Having beaten the points haul of a 16-year-old Lewis, Olympic gold winner at the Sydney 2000 Games, earlier this year with her stunning performance which sealed 4,924 points at Corby in the East Anglia Regional Championships in June, Naomi will also be one of the favourites at Boston.

"We will all be aiming to get more than 5,000 points," she said.

"There are three girls at the top. It's a bit hit and miss. One event can go easily wrong, you never know with heptathlon," explained Naomi.

Her rivals will be Anna Rowe and Niamh Emerson for the gold medal.

If she finishes in the top four here she will represent England in an international meeting in December, when the nation takes on Scotland, Wales, Ireland and Northern Ireland.

"The selectors will be there and I can really make a name for myself if I do well," she explained.

She took part in the long jump in the English Individual Event U-17 Championships at Bedford last Saturday. Her first leap was 5.22m, but she then had to retire due to a foot injury.

Naomi will move up to the U-20 category next season, where she will face much older girls, but she remains supremely confident that this will not hinder her progress but instead bring out the best in her.

"The girls are going to be older, bigger and stronger but if I perform at my best I am going to win it," she said. "I will need to up my game."

Naomi was hugely proud to beat

Essex bronze for Hollie

TEN-year-old Hollie McDardell scooped a bronze at the Essex County Championships in the U-11 600 metres at a windy Garon Park in Southend.

The Harlow schools' Year 5 champion recorded 2 minutes and 08.1 seconds.

In the boys 600m, Churchgate Street pupil Tyler Jackson was fourth in his first ever track race.

The Harlow schools' Year 4 runner-up ran 2:02.1 for the distance.

The previous weekend at Bedford in the UK Inter Counties, Harlow's Markus Hunt represented Essex in the 400m.

In his heat, Markus ran 49.47s to take fourth to make the semi-finals the same day.

In the semi-final Markus again qualified as a fastest loser in fifth place in 49.11s.

In the final the following day Markus crossed the line alongside three other runners with only two-tenths of a second covering all four runners, leaving him in eighth spot with a time of 48.74s.

At Watford on Wednesday last week, Owen Armstrong (15) a Burnt Mill School pupil lowered his personal best (PB) for the 3,000m from 10.08 to 9.50 when finishing second in a mixed race.

This places Owen 16th in the East Region. His Burnt Mill colleague, Jack Shury (15), won a mixed 400m in 60.90, a PB.

Marklew's England Champs' silver joy

WILL Marklew secured a brilliant silver medal at the England Athletics U-17 Championships at Bedford on Sunday.

The Harlow Athletic Club member threw a personal best of 59.65 metres to claim the runner-up title in the javelin, ranking him fifth in the UK for this event in the U-17 age group.

He has focused on combined events this year, holding the octathlon titles for Essex and the South of England, so to achieve this standard in javelin is rare for a multi-events specialist.

Marklew, who has just returned from special athletic training in the Caribbean, said: "I am sure that my recent training in Grenada really helped as well as having the opportunity to train in the UK with a top coach and some top javelin throwers."

"I was disappointed not to throw over 60m, which is my target for this season, but I have a couple of opportunities left to achieve that."

Marklew, a pupil at The Bishop's Stortford High School, now turns his attention to the English National finals for Combined Events in a few weeks' time, where he will compete in the octathlon against the UK's finest.

Three Harlow Town teams have title glory within their grasp

ASHLEY Alderson's Harlow Town achieved the win which means they top the Shepherd Neame Essex League division three table heading into the final weekend of the season.

Town defeated close neighbours Epping by four wickets on Saturday, which means the title is theirs to lose against third-placed Old Southendians.

If they lose or draw this, second-placed Stanford-le-Hope might take the crown.

Alderson, pictured, said: "We know what we have to do next week and hopefully we can end the season with a positive result. We have players in form at the crucial stage of the season. Old Southendians are a great team and it is going to be a tough game. They need to win so we know they will throw everything at us. It is going to be an exciting end to the season!"

Town lost the toss and Epping chose to bat.

Town got off to a great start with Dan Calver (2) and Dan Farmer (1) picking up early wickets to leave Epping on 3-3 after five overs.

Farmer then bowled Epping captain and danger man Rakesh Bagga for 13 late in his spell and Epping were 36-4.

Calver ended with 2-13 and Farmer 2-18.

Spin twins Ronnie Yates and Ramya Upadhyay took out the middle and lower order with an impressive display.

Tailenders Tapan Patel (39) and William Beavers (37) allowed Epping to post 168 with some big hitting but both were stumped by Pat Yates.

Ronnie Yates and Upadhyay both ended up with three wickets each.

In reply, Pat Yates went early, but Shiraz Ali and Joe Holland put on an excellent partnership to put Town on the front foot.

The impressive Ali struck a superb 50 and the duo put on an 80-run partnership before Holland was caught behind off the bowling of Sachin Bawa (103-2).

Bawa then removed Upadhyay for 0 and Ali quickly followed on 52 to leave Town on 120-4.

Wickets had tumbled when Ashley Alderson and vice-captain Neil Gladwin came together needing 39 runs to win.

The pair dug in on a deteriorating wicket. Alderson was caught on 26 with Town needing just one run to win.

Gladwin used all his experience to reach 25 not out to seal victory.

Bawa finished with 4-24.

Town's unbeaten second XI also need a victory next week to secure the title after crushing Epping twos by eight wickets.

They will also have a shoot-out with Old Southendians with a 16-point advantage.

Skipper Jason Gladwin won the toss and decided to field on a damp wicket and openers Fussell and Ali causing mayhem as five batsmen came and went for 21 runs.

Epping quickly subsided to 62 all out in just 21 overs. Ali (1-23), Fussell (4-29) and Rowell (3-4) were the wicket takers.

In reply, Town started nervously and lost two wickets in the first four balls to be 4-2.

But Max Poulter (13 not out) and Ben Eversden (39 not out) sealed victory with the latter finishing the game with a huge six.

The game was over in just under two-and-a-half hours as Town met the target in 14 overs.

Town's third team beat Belhus threes by 92 runs.

Batting first, Town lost early wickets but their nerves finally settled and Brendon Maclean (35), Vinesh Patel (38) and Vic Goddard (88) made sure they declared on 202.

Goddard's 4-16 ensured victory which keeps them in the promotion race.

With Loughton IV losing, the thirds are top and need a win at Hutton to become champions or 11 points to guarantee promotion.

Town's fourth team defeated Belhus fours (141 all out) by 59 runs to preserve their place in division two.

Tom Wilcox (69) and skipper Lee Richardson (66) helped put on 200.

Completing a terrific all-round display, Wilcox (4-35), in tandem with Paul Smith (6-46), ensured Belhus's bid to block out for the draw was doomed to failure.

'Support the Hawks' as they face top test

DANNY Chapman is hopeful the people of Harlow will show their support for the Hawks as part of 'Non-league Day' this Saturday.

Ryman League division one north table-toppers Harlow Town face third-placed Soham Town Rangers and to try and entice families to The Harlow Arena, U-16s are free with adults just paying a fiver.

Hawks boss Chapman, who saw his side head top with a 4-2 win at Burnham Ramblers on Tuesday, said: "It's a chance for people to come down and bring their kids. Soham will be a decent side. We could do with all the support we can get. It will be a fantastic day."

"With the population of Harlow we should be getting a lot more people than we do."

Meanwhile, Harlow have had mixed fortunes this week.

Chapman has signed highly-rated 21-year-old former Southend United goalkeeper Dean Driscoll from Tilbury and he made his debut at Burnham.

But, it has been revealed that midfielder George Smith, pictured, suffered a cruciate ligament injury against Brentwood and he will be out for at least six months.

"He has had an operation. We will do all we can to help him. He will still be part of our season," said Chapman.

On the capture of Driscoll, the Hawks manager said: "He was at Tilbury last season. He is impressive. He has got good presence and he kicks really well. He will be a great addition. He will fight for the number one spot with Ed [Thompson] and Tristan [Hickman]."

Thompson, however, is out for three weeks with a hip injury.

Harlow took the lead against Burnham after 13 minutes when Jarod Small ran the whole length of the pitch before playing in Alex Read for a simple tap-in.

The advantage was doubled on 35 minutes when James Smith picked up the ball in midfield, beat a couple of players and then fired a left-footed shot into the bottom right corner.

Three minutes later it was 3-0 as Smith's set-piece was headed in by Read.

Burnham pulled a goal back two minutes before the break when Kye Jude nodded in at the back post.

Small made it 4-1 on 63 minutes with a shot from 13 yards after Read's initial effort was blocked.

The hosts pulled a goal back on 82 minutes through Isaac Aubynn, but Harlow closed out the game and are unbeaten in eight games this season.

Aside from the play-off final loss, they have been beaten only once in 23 games.

Chapman told the Star: "We performed really well. They were never any threat—we were always comfortable. Statistics don't lie and we are top because we deserve to be top."

Harlow picked up £1,925 in prize money after beating Baldock 3-0 in the FA Cup on Sunday (see inside for match report).

They will visit Grays in the first qualifying round, where the victors will pick up another £3,000.

Chapman was disappointed with

Harlow's performance against Baldock, who had 10 men for most of the game. He added: "We turned up in first gear and left in first gear. The performance was not good but we won the game."

New signing Emmanuel Nwanze started in midfield, while other new recruits Daniel Fry and Danny Norton were substitutes. "Emmanuel needs games. He did well. Danny Norton also needs game time," Chapman said.

Harlow have another home league match against Thurrock on Tuesday.
